

Mill Men to Meet Strikers

WILL SAVE CITY MONEY MAYOR O'DONNELL END OF THE STRIKE

Act Relative to Supplying Ballots to Cities and Towns

An act relative to supplying ballots for use at state, city and town elections has passed the legislature and was approved March 13. It is a very important piece of legislation and will save the state, cities and towns a good penny. Heretofore the law provided for two sets of ballots and that was a needless expense. The new act reads as follows:

Section 1—Chapter five hundred and sixty of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and seven is hereby amended by striking out section two, hundred and thirty-four and inserting in place thereof the following: Section 234: One set of ballots of not less than sixty ballots for every fifty and fraction of fifty registered voters shall be provided for each polling place at which an election for state, city or town is to be held and one set of special ballots of not less than six ballots for every fifty and fraction of fifty women registered to vote for school committee shall be provided for each polling place at which an election for city or town office is to be held.

Urges Strikers to Return to Work

Next Monday

Mayor O'Donnell this afternoon sent letters to the officers of the Manufacturers' association and to the labor leaders, urging the former to open the mill gates Monday, and the latter to advise the people to return to work pending an adjustment of the wage question which he says he is assured can be made in three weeks.

The mill agents are firm in their decision, and they say they cannot grant a larger increase than was announced on March 25. The Weavers' and the Loomfixers' unions have received letters to that effect. However, about the other grievances, such as Sunday work and pay and a half overtime, the agents say they will meet their help in due time.

The loomfixers' letter was read at the latter's meeting this morning and immediate action was taken, the loomfixers saying they cannot accept the increase offered, and in a letter sent to the agents they announce they are willing to meet their employers at any time to discuss the situation and prove to them that their demand is reasonable.

The weavers held an open meeting at 2 o'clock this afternoon and they were addressed by Mrs. Sara Conboy of Boston, national organizer for the United Textile Workers of America.

The I. W. W. held another parade early this morning. They held a meeting at 10 o'clock in their hall, the meeting being presided over by John Powers in the absence of W. Trautman, who is today in Clinton.

MAYOR O'DONNELL MOVES

TO SETTLE THE STRIKE
Mayor O'Donnell made his first public move relative to the strike this afternoon when he addressed a letter which is given below to Agents Wadleigh and Whittier, representing the Mill Agents' Association, John Golden, the A. F. of L. leader, President John J. Anderson, President David Connelley and Sec. Joseph F. Ashton of the Mule Spinners' union; Stanislaus Worek, and Thomas J. Reagan of the Cotton Weavers' union; the officers of the Loomfixers' union and Dr. George A. Denteopoulos, the leader of the Greek strikers.

For the past week his honor has been in conference with leading men on both sides and the result of his inquiry into the existing conditions is the following letter:

April 4, 1912.

Dear Sir:
As mayor of Lowell, deeply interested in the welfare of this city and its people generally, inasmuch as a strike for an increase of wages by the employees of our cotton mills has been in progress for about two weeks with no apparent movement toward a satisfactory ending, and with daily information through the press of increases of wages in the textile industry in neighboring cities and towns, I felt it my duty personally to make an investigation into the existing conditions with a view to ending the industrial strife and restoring the city to its wonted peace and prosperity.

With that end in view I have consulted with prominent men on both sides and as a result of my conferences and the knowledge I have thereby acquired I would respectfully submit the following suggestion:

Open all the mills now closed on next Monday, April 8th, under the new schedule of wages of March 25th; instruct the operatives of the different unions to return on that day and work for at least three weeks under that scale. Then if the wage conditions have not been satisfactorily adjusted, the operatives shall make such specific demands as they may desire and in the event of being refused, to cease work and employ all legitimate means to bring about that betterment of conditions that they now seek. By so doing I cannot then be said that the new wage scale was not given a fair trial. I am actuated in making this suggestion by a very strong assurance that in the event of the operatives returning to work on next Monday the mill authorities within three weeks will have adjusted the present difference in a manner that will be satisfactory to the employees.

Respectfully,
James E. O'Donnell,
Mayor of Lowell.

Boston Mill Men Expect it Will Come Soon

BOSTON, April 4.—The general advance of about ten per cent. just made in nearly all the cotton mills in New England means an increase of a quarter cent a yard for most goods, according to estimates made by mill men today. Print cloth, prints, gray goods and sheeting are all up a half-cent a yard. Cambric and drills have been notched up one-quarter of a cent. It is expected that these advances will be sufficient to meet the increased manufacturing cost and furnish a normal profit once more. But the mills will not get the benefit until mid-summer and by that time three years of unprofitable conditions will have rolled around.

The general advance will cost the cotton mills about $10,000,000 additional yearly, based on an all-combined payroll of $100,000,000 for upwards of 200,000 persons.

Among the latest manufacturers to concede a raise of five per cent. are

Bliss, Falmouth & Co. of Boston and New York, who control mills in Ware, Palmer, Thorndike, Bondville, West Warren and Millbury, Mass., and Greenville and New Ipswich, N. H. The 4,000 operatives of the George Gilbert Mfg. Co. worsted mills in Ware and Gilbertville received a second five per cent. advance today.

The strike and lockout situation in Lowell was considered at a meeting of certain New England manufacturers here last Friday and it was decided to support the Lowell mills and make no further concessions. This action was later reconsidered with the result that notices of a second advance were posted this week in all northern New England cotton mills, except those controlled by interests identified with the Lowell management.

An early adjustment of the strikes in Lowell, Clinton, North Adams and West Warren is looked for by many Boston mill men.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY

TO CHARGE OF BRINGING IN ALIENS

BOSTON, April 4.—Plans of not guilty to a charge of conspiring to bring in and land certain aliens were permitted to enter the United States were entered before U. S. Commissioner Hayes today by Andrew Schifano and Giovanni Gaggeri, interpreters on the White Star Liner Celtic who were arrested yesterday after 27 stowaways had been found in one of the ship's tanks. Each prisoner was held in $2,000 for a continuance hearing next Saturday and in default of sureties each was committed to jail.

LARCENY CHARGED

AGAINST TWO FORMER RESIDENTS OF NEW YORK

LONDON, April 4.—Alfred A. Motley and Clark Miller, former residents of New York, who have been carrying on a lithographic business in London since June last, appeared at the Bow street police court today on a charge of alleged larceny. They were arrested yesterday in London at the request of the New York police.

The prisoners declare that the prosecution is a malicious one as they had taken action against the American lithographer of their special lithographic process which was worth $100,000 for breach of contract and had asked for damages.

Saturday, April 6th, is Quarter Day at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

MAN SHOT WIFE

He Then Killed Himself Instantly

PROVIDENCE, April 4.—Rather than agree to a continued separation James M. Gunner, aged 44, of this city, last night attempted to murder his wife, Louise, aged 23, and then shot himself in the head with fatal effect.

Mrs. Gunner is expected to recover, though she has a wound in the head. The couple had lived apart nearly a year. Mrs. Gunner residing in New Bedford during that time.

Yesterday she came to Providence to see her mother and her husband called upon her in an effort to effect a reconciliation. The woman refused to consider it, and when she started for home Gunner accompanied her to the car line.

While waiting for the car he drew a revolver and fired first at his wife and then at himself. The woman was taken to a hospital. Gunner died instantly.

HOLY THURSDAY

Observed in the Catholic Churches

In all the Catholic churches today Holy Thursday was observed. The day is also known as Maundy Thursday and the services are particularly inspiring. Only one mass was celebrated in each church, but many received communion at other times during the morning. All day the churches were visited by large numbers of the faithful. According to the custom of the people of the faith plan to visit three Catholic churches during the day and offer prayers.

Maundy or Holy Thursday is the day of the last supper of the Lord—the day that he instituted the sacrament of the Eucharist, and in honor of that great mystery the church is again her mourning during the celebration of the mass and the altars are decked with flowers and ornaments, and the priests wear vestments of white, the color denoting joy and gladness. And to show the unity and greatness of the supper the church allows only one mass to be offered in each church at which the clergy and the congregation assist and receive communion. This brings before the minds of the people the scene when the sacrament was consecrated and given to those present. The "Gloria in Excelsis Deo" is sung during which the organ is played and the bells rung, and after that the organ and bells are silent until Holy Saturday. On Holy Thursday the priest consecrates two hosts, one he receives in communion and the other is reserved for Friday. At the close of the mass the consecrated host is borne in solemn procession to the altar of repose, where it remains until the service of Good Friday morning. During the night the faithful keep watch in prayer at the altar of repose. The high altar and other altars are stripped to remind the faithful that Jesus was stripped of his garments.

SEIZE STOWAWAYS

Twenty-Seven Were Taken From the Steamship Cretic

BOSTON, April 4.—In a steel water tank on the "olive deck" two decks below the stowage of the steamship Cretic, 21 men and three small boys were found yesterday afternoon by police inspectors and officers of the immigration department.

It was in regard to these stowaways a warrant was obtained yesterday in the United States court against Andrea, who has not been revealed, while March Shidling, 32 years old, and Giovanni 18 to Deputy Supt. William B. Watts, 32 years old, and they were at the police department. The officials arrested late yesterday afternoon suspected that some of the stowaways aboard the Cretic by Deputy March.

They were being assisted in their efforts to enter this country by men employed by the steamship line as interpreters. He advised Deputy Watts to have the steamship searched thoroughly.

Based on certain other information that Deputy Watts' friend imparted, it was in regard to these stowaways a warrant was obtained yesterday in the United States court against Andrea, who has not been revealed, while March Shidling, 32 years old, and Giovanni 18 to Deputy Supt. William B. Watts, 32 years old, and they were at the police department. The officials arrested late yesterday afternoon suspected that some of the stowaways aboard the Cretic by Deputy March.

officer told him. Hartland said he thought a reopening was due and the officer, concerned, after persuasion, the ship's carpenter had to be sent off before the cover could be taken off. Small holes in the cover, which resembled that of a machine, admitted air.

Alongside the inside of the tank, which is about 15 feet deep and 20 feet in circumference, is a rich ladder and down that the interpreter went. The hum of voices stirred him. He realized that he had found the stowaways, but did not wish to take chances alone, and quickly returned to the top. As he all so a voice in Italian said: "We give up."

Hartland regained the top of the tank, adjusted the cover and set upon it. While Gallati went to find Commissioner Phillips and Deputy Commissioner Hurley. The whole party of searchers came and the police descended into the tank and ordered the people inside to climb out.

Meantime station 15 at City square was notified and Capt. George T. Yerton sent all his available men to the dock in the patrol wagon. As many of the stowaways, as could be recommended were placed in the wagon and driven to the police station. The others were led through the streets by the inspectors and the police of division 15. Hundreds of persons flocked around the steamship dock and the police found it difficult to get their prisoners through the crowd.

The 27 stowaways were placed in cells until barges came to convey them to the immigration office at Long Wharf. Some of them produced passports. The police said it was apparent that a majority of them were suffering from typhus and other diseases which would make their admission to this country doubtful.

One of the three boys in the party, Raffaele Crangado, barely three feet in height, and only 11 years old, had run away from his grandparents, according to his story. He said his parents are in New York and he wanted to join them because he had become desperate after they had come to America.

Dominick Perrucci, 12 years old, stowed away with an older brother. The other boy is Giuseppe Barberi, who said he was 16 years old, but looked younger.

Most of the talking at the police station was done by Vincenzo Grillo, who speaks English very well, although he claims he has never been in the country before. He said he learned the language while employed on a steamer running between English ports and Cape Town. He promised a discharge from the Italian army.

Grillo said he had paid a small sum of money to a man in Naples for the privilege of stowing away and expected it would be possible for him to get off the Cretic after dark last evening. According to his story most of the stowaways were in poor shape physically and resorted to that method of getting into the country because they were convinced they would be rejected should they try to make a regular entry.

Grasso said he paid $12 for his place and got aboard the boat at Naples. He has been in America before, he says, leaving Saratoga, Pa., 22 months ago. Grasso said he is not a black hand man and does not believe that any of his companions are.

Declare Crew Helped Them

The persons found in the water tank are detained at the immigration office and will be examined today and, if they desire, be given a hearing before special boards on the question of deportation.

The moment they were found by interpreters William Hartland and Nicola Gallati one of the older men in the group administered everything to have nothing to say and most of them obeyed.

A few of them admitted that they had paid small sums of money to persons who concealed them in Naples and promised to get them into this country safely, and others declared they were allowed to mingle among the stowaway passengers after boarding the boat and were provided with meals by the crew.

They also declared that about a week Tuesday night they were directed to the hiding place in the tank by members of the crew and were there supplied with blankets, food and water. They said they doubted if they could identify the men who befriended them, as it was very dark at the time.

Immigration Commissioner George H. Billings and a squad of his men searched the liner at quarantine in the morning and while the ship was moving through the upper harbor parts of the vessel were searched.

After the steamer docked, Deputy Supt. Watts and inspectors Wolf, Lynch, Louellin, Kibby and O'Neil went aboard and a systematic search was begun. The men from headquarters searched one part of the steamer while Commissioner Billings divided his 15 men into squads.

The crew, numbering nearly 500 men, were mustered on the deck while the search was in progress.

Hartland Makes Quick Exit

About 2:30 p. m. Hartland and Gallati had examined the stowaways and then hurried on being taken through a trap door that led below. The steamer's officer accompanying them demurred at first, but finally consented.

Hartland observed that arrows on the top of the water tank on the orlop deck seemed to be loose. The tank had not been opened for 10 years, the

BISHOP HUGHES

Delivered Lecture in the
Y. M. C. A. Course

Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, of San Francisco, gave the first of the Y. M. C. A. course of lectures on the Bible at the First Baptist church last night.

"There is," said the speaker, "an institutional conception of the word of God. We have been taught, the most of us, from infancy, that the Bible is precisely what is claimed for it by the adjective that we put before the noun, namely, holy. We assume, therefore, a certain reverent attitude toward the supreme religious history of all this world's great volumes.

In addition to this there is a certain religious attitude toward the book which may be called almost sabbatical in its character. The Bible seems some-thing closely related to Sunday. It may well come about that there is a sabbatical attitude and an every-day attitude, and the problem of the minister is to get men to take their sabbatical attitude and make it their habitual attitude. It is perfectly safe to suggest that in the long run the sabbatical attitude toward the book will be tremendously influenced by the week-day attitude toward the same great volume.

"There is not only the institutional attitude and the sabbatical attitude; there is also a certain controversial attitude, that is widely emphasized today. There are few people who are not aware that a certain kind of controversy is raging about the Scriptures, and sometimes we have been made uneasy about it. Frequently in the midst of this controversy we lose our good spirit. The controversy is frequently a good deal of a spiritual platitude. One of the principal difficulties has been that we have been wrestled and turned from a certain individual relation to the book."

"The Bible, he said, was not primarily intended to be used by the mathematician, the scientist, the geographer or the historian. You can get pretty good mathematics out of a hymn book, if that is what you want; but it is not the primary purpose of the book. On the other hand, if I wanted music, you would not hand me an arithmetic. Speaking of the common religion of the early chapters of Genesis, he said: 'I do not know whether those chapters are history, parable or allegory; but I do know that when the Bible tells us that there came an issue between God and the human soul, that he had fashioned, I know there is a spiritual truth about myself, and if I want to be instructed in righteousness, the instruction is there.'"

"It is the same with the book of Job. Whether it is parable, history or allegory, I know that away back in those times one man got hold of the idea that suffering is not always a result of sin. It was needed in those days. Have you ever thought what a terrible world this would be if every sick man became a room of suspicion and positive penalty? I do not care whether you call the story of Job a parable, an allegory or history, I know that away back yonder, when man's conceptions were narrow, some man under the inspiration of God Almighty got hold of the idea that when a man turns his ship away from the path of his duty, he is going to get into trouble. Do not let any amateur theologian drag you into a debate about the size of a white's throat!"

Finally, when you get out of the Bible, he said, on the religious history which you bring to the Bible. There are business men here who would have a hard time if they were left alone with the poems of Tennyson and told that they must spend five hours in studying the poems. Why? Because business has crowded poetry out of their heads. No man has a right to consider poetry in his own nature, and then blame the poets. Bring the religious instinct and the religious purpose to the Bible, and the Bible will feed that instinct and purpose; and there is enough there to keep you busy forever and forevermore."

As winter passes away it leaves many people feeling weak, depressed and easily tired. The body lacks that vital force and energy which pure blood alone can give.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an
all-year-round blood-builder and nerve tonic but they are especially useful in the spring. Every dose helps to make new, rich, red blood. Returning strength commences with their use and the vigor and cheerfulness of good health quickly follow.

There is just one cure for lack of blood and that is more blood. Food is the material from which blood is made but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills double the blood-making value of the food we eat. They give strength, tone up the stomach, aid weak digestion,
clear the complexion of pimples, eruptions and boils,
and drive out rheumatic poisons.

If you are pale and sallow, if you feel continually
"tired out," breathless after slight exertion, if you have headaches and backaches, if you are irritable, nervous, shaky, if your joints ache, if your step is uncertain, if your appetite fails and food does not nourish nor sleep
refresh you, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will help you.

To build up the blood is the special purpose of Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills and that is why they are the best spring medicine. If you feel the need of a tonic
this spring give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and you will rejoice in new health, new strength and new energy. Do not let the trying weather of summer find you weak and ailing.

A CURE IN LYNN

Mrs. William Clark, of No. 12 North
Common terrace, Lynn, Mass., says:
"I was so sick with anemia that I could not walk up stairs. No one can know how I suffered. I was very pale
and had severe headaches with dizzy spells. I was so short of breath that I couldn't go up stairs. My stomach was very weak, food didn't agree with me and I had but little appetite. I became discouraged with my doctor's treatment as he did not help me at all.
Finally I decided that I would take Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills instead. I began to feel better by the time I had taken
a few boxes and was soon able to eat heartily. I gained in strength until my health was restored."

ANOTHER IN WORCESTER

Miss Mabel Fanjoy, of No. 49
North Ashland street, Worcester,
Mass., says: "When I was seventeen years of age I was rapidly going into a decline and had such a bad cough that I could not sleep nights. I grew very thin, lost color and strength.
I had severe headaches and dizzy spells
as often as two or three times a day.
My mother had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with benefit and had me try them. Although I had been sick four or five months, the pills helped me.
I used a number of boxes and felt like
a new person."

GRAND ARMY MEN

Brought Their Encampment to
a Close Last Night

BOSTON, April 1.—The 40th encampment of the Massachusetts department of the Grand Army of the Republic ended amid great enthusiasm
at the American House last night.
During the two days the quartermaster-in-chief, Judge Harvey M. Venable of Hillsdale, to encourage them in their work.

Yesterday, at 10 a. m., the last session was opened at Faneuil hall. Several times the business was interrupted
by the arrival of delegations from
the W. R. C. S. of V., Ladies of the
A. R. Army Nurses, S. of V. Auxiliary and the D. of V. All were given a cordial reception.

At the session this morning the first
interesting incident was the intro-duc-

tion of David Walsh, a well-known member of Post 3, Lynn, one of the delegates who attended the first encampment, 16 years ago, and he reluctant that the work then inaugurated had done so much good.

Past Commander John D. Billings
of the committee on resolutions presented its report, which approved a change in the basis of representation
to the department encampment from one in 25 to one in 30. An amendment making it one in 25 was adopted by 136 to 122.

A resolution praying for legislative action that will preserve the battle

flags in the state house was unanimously endorsed by the committee and also by the encampment.

Gift for Commander Fiske
Past Commander J. Payson Bradley called attention to the matter of the proposed erection by the Daughters of Veterans of a monument to the Army nurses and by a hand vote of the delegates and also by those in the gallery, the proposition that each member of the Grand Army in this state give $1 was unanimously indorsed. The matter was referred to the incoming council of administration
for carrying the vote into effect.

Col. John E. McElroy of Washington
was escorted to the platform by the officer of the day and was warmly received. The colonel was a candidate last year at Rochester for commander-in-chief.

Capt. Linus Clark of Post 11,
Charlestown, presented to the retiring department commander, Grayville, C.
Fiske, in behalf of the aids who had been on his staff during his administration, a beautiful gold watch and chain as a mark of appreciation. Mrs.
Fiske was also presented with a diamond pendant.

The department commander appointed the following staff: Assistant adjutant general, Wilfred A. Wether-bee; assistant quartermaster general, Eugene D. Sanborn; department inspector, Lewis C. Clarke, chief mus-ticing officer, H. J. Bench, Post 149; public instructor, Edward O. Skelton, Post 191; judge advocate, John H.

Hardy, Post 36; chief of staff, G. C.
Fiske, Post 18.

At the close of the session the members went to the New American House
where tables had been prepared for 500, and every seat was occupied.

Wants Names of Gettysburg Men

Gov. Foss and Mayor Fitzgerald received rousing welcomes from the veterans. The latter paid tributes to Commander John E. Gilman, the late Col.
Olin and John T. Priest, the latter dying only a few hours before the mayor arrived at the banquet.

Past Department Commander Fiske
presided, and, as the first speaker, introduced Gov. Foss.

His Excellency said it was an honor
to represent a state that had done so much for the old soldier. He spoke of the great reception that he and the delegation had received in the south
last summer, when they dedicated the monuments erected by Massachusetts.

In speaking of the coming 50th anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg, when the G. A. R. would be the guests of Pennsylvania, he said it was his and
the committee's ambition to have every man in the state who participated in that battle present, and he wanted the address of every man.

The next speaker was Commander-in-Chief Trimble, who said that the G. A. R.
and its individual members for many years—in fact almost all the years
since the victory of '65 was achieved—
to still live in the present rather than in the past. It is one of the glories of the G. A. R. that wherever there was a good work to be accomplished, whenever there was an institution that should be founded, a charitable institution, any great enterprise to be presented, if you would look around and note the bunch that was doing the work and furnishing the motive force you would find a lot of the members of the G. A. R. there.

"And so we have all felt that it were better to live a year or a half decade in the active, pulsating present where things are done than to venturinto the past, however glorious that past was. (Cries of "Good! Good!" and applause.)

Glories of Massachusetts

"We all understand that here in Massachusetts was the beginning of things,
and here in Massachusetts of all the great names that adorn the history of this mighty commonwealth—from here
have been sent out throughout this land of ours and throughout the world
the motive forces that have led men to the higher levels of human thought and humane action. And so it is a glory for any one from any other great state of this union to pay that homage to Massachusetts that is due to the beginning of the genius and the enterprise that set liberty and that old flag aloft in this land to be carried to future generations as the signal and synonym of freedom."

"I yield nothing for Illinois. The name of Lincoln wrought a new page in the history of the world—a page bright
with the most glorious heroism, the most exalted patriotism ever known among men, and with Grant's valor names will live through all the ages not to come."

Mayor Has to Sing

Mayor Fitzgerald, who had been detained by business, got a hearty welcome when he entered the hall. He was immediately called upon. In the course of his enthusiastic remarks he paid a glowing tribute to the men who are holding positions in the city government and who fought to save the Union.

He spoke feelingly of the loss the city had sustained by the death of John T. Priest, a comrade. The city,
he said, was glad to welcome the veterans and closed by making a fitting allusion to what the city was doing to perpetuate the memory of Wendell Phillips on the erection of a suitable memorial on the common.

His Honor was given an ovation at the close of his address and in response to the song "Sweet Adeline," and all the veterans joined in the chorus.

Other speakers were Col. McElroy of
Washington, Capt. DeWitt Coffman, U.
S. N., commandant of the navy yard;
Col. Adam Slater, C. A. C., commander of the artillery district of Boston; Capt.
John S. Barrows, National Guards, U.
S. M., and department commander, George A. Mosley, who but a few hours before had been installed.

During the festivities the proceedings were enlivened by the singing by the "gang" conducted by Commander
A. A. Carlton and solos by Past Commander-in-Chief Gilman and Past Department Commander John L. Parker.

It was a very happy gathering, but for those who have attended these encampments for years there was a tinge of sadness in their hearts, as many familiar faces, who have always been present, were missing.

SEARCH FOR BANDITS

Defectives Expect to Get the Allens Today

HULSVILLE, Va., April 4.—Supported by Gov. Mann's warning that no prisoner awaits anyone giving aid or comfort to the outlaws, the detectives expect to get the Allens today. The officers say the bandits would have been starved out or killed long ago but for the activities of their friends and kinsmen, who besides circulating false news to mislead the detectives are believed to have succeeded in getting food to the fugitives.

RODGERS WAS KILLED

Famous Coast to Coast Aviator Pays Death Penalty

LONG BEACH, Calif., April 4.—Calvin P. Rodgers, the first man to cross the American continent in an airplane, was killed here almost instantly late yesterday, when his plane in which he had been soaring over the ocean fell from a height of 200 feet and buried him in the wreck.

His neck was broken and his body badly injured by the engine of his machine. He lived but a few moments.

Rodgers had been making daily flights here for a week and had taken up with him many passengers, both men and women.

Yesterday he started from his usual place and soared out over the ocean, crossing the pier and then turned and dipped edge to a roller coaster, in a beach amusement park.

Seeing a flock of gulls dispersing themselves among a great school of sardines just over the beach, Rodgers again turned and dived down into them, scattering the sea food in all directions.

Highly elated with the outcome of his dive, he flew up, and, at the time gradually rising until he had reached a height of about 200 feet.

Full Speed for Pier

Making a short turn, he started at full speed for the pier, then suddenly inclined his planes and his machine began a frightful descent. It was seen by hundreds of persons on the pier to relax his hold on the levers and then, seemingly calling that he was in danger, making a strenuous effort to pull the nose of his machine into a level position.

Falling in this he managed to turn his craft further inshore, and an instant later the craft fell with a crash at the edge of the pier, not 500 feet from the spot where, on Wednesday night, he finished his ocean-to-ocean flight.

Ernest Scott and James Goodwin, lieutenants, were the first to reach him. They said Rodgers' head was hanging over one wing of the machine, the heavy engine was on his back and his feet were drawn up nearly double over his shoulder. Blood was flowing from his mouth.

Neck and Back Broken

Rodgers was lifted from the wreck and hurried to the bathhouse hospital. He died on the way.

Examination showed that his neck, jawbone and back were broken. A telegram was sent to the aviator's wife, who lives in Pasadena, and a cablegram to his mother, Mrs. H. S. Schweizer, who is now in London. The body was prepared for burial and sent to Pasadena last night.

The machine that Rodgers used yesterday was the same one with which he won $1,000 in prizes in July at the Chicago endurance meet. It is a total wreck, many parts having been swept out to sea by the tide.

Rodgers' cousin, Lieut. John Rodgers, U. S. N., is now attached to the airplane section of the navy, stationed at San Diego.

BOYS KILL FATHER

They Waylaid Parent on Roadside

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 4.—Frank and Roy Yanes, brothers, aged 15 and 13, respectively, and in the county jail here, charged with the murder of their father, George Yanes, a rancher, near Compton. The boys admitted their guilt.

Frank said he and his brother had plotted the slaying of their father Tuesday, and that both "executed themselves at the roadside." As the elder Yanes approached, Frank told the officers he fired the fatal shot from a revolver. The boys took $35 in money from his pockets, loaded the body on a mud sled and heaving it home, told their mother some enemy had killed him.

Both admitted their father had been kind to them, and that they had no reason to kill him, except that he had compelled them to go to school, and they were tired of being bored.

PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS APPEAR READY FOR START OF CAMPAIGN

TWO BREAKS IN LEVEE

The Drainage District at Cairo, Ill., Is Gone

CAIRO, Ill., April 4.—The Cairo drainage district is gone. Two breaks in the levee early today have flooded a territory nine miles square and the loss will run into the millions. Twenty-two lumber companies, a town of 600 and many farms are covered by water. The first break occurred at the Mobile & Ohio levee on the west side of the district when 200 feet of embankment went through. The waters of the Mississippi river are rushing in and filling the territory from the Mississippi to the Illinois Central tracks, a distance of two miles.

Early today the Big Four levee along the Ohio river burst near the Cairo canal. During the day men who never wielded a shovel in their lives shoveled dirt from the flat cars into the bulkhead along the Ohio levee in this city. Men who never did heavier work than watch a pen pushed flat cars along the levee wherever the various cars were not allowed to run. Schools have been dismissed until after the flood and mailboys manfully worked yesterday at filling sacks and shoveling dirt off flat cars.

MAIN LEVEES INTACT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 4.—This city is in no greater danger than it was yesterday. The main levees still are intact and those directing the fight are confident the guards will hold.

The Mobile and Ohio levee on the west side of the district was first to go last night. A gap 200 feet wide was torn in the embankment. Several hours later the Big Four levee on the Ohio broke. Four hundred laborers were summoned on this levee but were rescued within less than an hour by the steamer Maquod.

While showing the effects of the water's lashing, all the main levees in Arkansas, Tennessee and Mississippi are reported intact but it is conceded that a hard fight must be made special in the upper St. Francis district to save the embankments.

The Tennessee levee west of Hickman, Ky., which protects the Red Foot lake region is sloughing to some extent and the water is lapping the crest, but it is believed the levee can be saved.

Near Memphis at Star Landing, in Arkansas, opposite Lake Cormorant, Miss., the bank is caving near the base of the levee and government forces are being concentrated at that point.

South of Memphis the flood has not reached the acute stage.

In Memphis the flooded area in the northern outskirts of the city is steadily increasing in length and breadth. Organized relief for those driven from their homes or thrown out of employment was taken up today.

HELP FOR REFUGEES

HICKMAN, Ky., April 4.—Two thousand flood refugees were cheered after an all-night vigil at the levee by the announcement that a train would bring relief supplies to the city today. The flood situation is alarming. Private relief funds are exhausted and the city treasury is empty.

The city borrowed money from a local bank to pay express charges on 200 government tents which arrived on the first train since the levee broke. The tents will relieve the congested condition of improvised sleeping quarters set up in churches, schoolhouses, halls and even barns.

Excepting those engaged on relief work, every able bodied man has been impressed for service on the levee. A deputy sheriff rode through the town today and ordered groups of laboring men to the levee, threatening to shoot any who disobeyed.

Disaster confronts some of the merchants by reason of the loss of their stocks. Flatboats are being built for householders, who will try to salvage some of their effects.

PASSED FLOOD STAGE

CINCINNATI, April 4.—The Ohio river passed the flood stage here last night. Last night the river was 5 feet above the flood mark. The local government weather forecaster predicted that the river would reach 52 or 53 feet by tonight but owing to the fact that all tributary streams above Cincinnati are running torrents he was not prepared to say how much higher it would go.

MILLS ARE CLOSED

Only 1400 Operatives Reported for Work

WARREN, April 4.—Because only about 1400 operatives entered the three mills of the Thorndike company at West Warren when the gates were thrown open today, the management decided not to resume operations. There were no disturbances. The 5000 operatives of the company struck for an increase in wages two weeks ago. Notices were posted yesterday announcing that the mills would open this morning unless the river was "based or increased in other sections" would become effective. The exact amount of the increase was not stated and this is believed to be the reason for the non-return of the help.

BAY WOOD WON

Yelle Started But Hand Was Broken

NEW BEDFORD, April 4.—Bay Wood of Fall River was given the decision over Fred Yelle of Taunton at the end of their 12-round bout before the New Bedford Athletic club last night. In addition to receiving his first adverse decision before a local crowd, Yelle's right hand was broken during the fight.

Yelle outscored Wood during most of the rounds and the latter would have suffered severely had he not played for close quarters at every opportunity.

Yelle landed innumerable left jabs to the jaw, and in the third round shifted his attack to the stomach, hitting Wood with force left and right hooks. In the fourth Wood landed a left hook to the jaw that dropped Yelle, but the latter was on his feet immediately.

The sixth round was even, but the seventh was Wood's best. He kept after Yelle hard, working both hands to the face and body. The eighth was even and the ninth was Yelle's by a big margin.

Wood roughed it in the latter part of the fight. The 10th and 11th rounds were even. In the 12th Wood struck Yelle a blow, simply throwing him back at Yelle on every rush.

In the semi-final Young Hugo Kelley of Portland, Me., fought Joe King of Boston, who was substituted for Young Jackson of Fall River. Kelley gave his opponent a severe beating, but King was game. The preliminary was won by Bob Gangle of this city, who knocked out Kid Cuddy in the fourth round.

SMITH DEFEATED

NEW YORK, April 4.—John Smith won the bout with Jim Smith at the National Sporting club last night. Smith was all in physically when the bout ended. He was so sad at heart and hurt mentally and physically that he could not stand on his feet. His arms over the top rope and hang on.

Smith smashed Smith to the face and body throughout the early rounds. Twice Smith was on the verge of toppling to the mat, but saved himself by a mighty effort. The fatal eighth round then came. Smith, at close quarters, shot in a short left hand hook to the stomach. He then crossed over a lightning like right to the jaw just as the blow from the left sent Smith staggering. The continued punches proved too much for Smith and he fell in a heap.

CARPENTIER WINS AGAIN

PARIS, April 4.—Georges Carpentier, the French middleweight, last night defeated the Australian negro, George Gunther, on points.

The fight lasted 20 rounds.

CONSTANTIN MOUSTAKIS FOR MERLY RESIDED IN LOWELL

Mr. Constantin Moustakis, formerly of this city and now a prosperous business man in Salem, visited Lowell yesterday and met old acquaintances. Mr. Moustakis, with his brothers, conducts the "Palace of Sweets," the finest confectionery and ice cream parlors in this section of the country. Recently they expended $1200 for improvements and they also enlarged the establishment. Mr. Moustakis visited his numerous friends in the Greek colony, and commenting on the strike situation said: "Of course it is not for me to interfere in the trouble but I want to say that from observation I believe the Greeks have a wise leader, and that they are conducting themselves in a proper and respectable manner."

FLORETTA WHALEY

Girl Who Eloped Visits
Grandmother

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., April 4.—Floretta Whaley, who eloped from Hempstead six years ago, is now 16 years old with the first Mrs. K. Cook, rector of the exclusive St. George's Episcopal church, at which Floretta Belmont, is senior warden, returned to the home of her grandmother here yesterday with the statement that she was homesick for old friends and relatives. Cook did not accompany her and she stayed but a short time. Upon returning to New York, where she joined the excommunicated congregation. Where they are staying in New York could not be learned here.

The former minister and the girl who returned to her family for his sake came east from San Francisco, where they have been living since the elopement in 1906. Several fever and cholera were epidemic in San Francisco at the time and inasmuch that a child had been born to them. It was deemed expedient to come east for a short visit in order that Floretta might see her relatives.

When Cook and the girl left Hempstead, he described his wife, who was a member of a prominent and wealthy family in Hartford, Conn. The elopement created a sensation through Long Island. Miss Whaley will shortly inherit more than $25,000 from her father's estate and upon the death of her aged grandmother, Mrs. Kasch, Whaley of this place she will receive about $50,000 more. Cook has gone into the decorating business in San Francisco and prospered.

FOUR BANDITS

Killed Expressman and
Looted Wagon

PARIS, April 4.—The arrest of Carroll, one of the automobile bandits who shot a chauffeur at Villeneuve-St. Georges and held up a bank at Chantilly, killing two of the employees and stealing $5,000, has not put a stop to the extensive series of highway crimes which have thrived France for some weeks past. A gang of four bandits this morning leaped on an expressman's wagon in the vicinity of Choisy-le-Roi, about six miles from Paris, killed the driver by strangling, looted the wagon of a large quantity of valuables and then tossed the corpse to the roadside. The bandits fled and no traces of them have been found.

THE GRAND JURY

Wants City Officials Removed From Office

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Recommendation for the summary removal from office of ten members of the various city departments is carried in a formal letter sent to Mayor Ralph J. Brown by the grand jury of San Francisco. The ten named are hold-overs from the administration of former Mayor J. C. McCarthy. The men named are Michael Casey, president of the board of public works; James P. Patton, John Donahoe, Eugene J. Pacific, fire commissioners; C. B. Lamont, member of the board of public works; P. J. Kilmer, Dennis J. Murray and Arthur M. Smith, members of the board of health; H. H. Spino, police commissioner; and B. H. Rosenbach, civil service commissioner.

KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

Best Pilethions has been going to Keith's twice a week and three times this week for it has gotten out that he has a regular day in and day out of the play, but hands out new stuff at each performance as the spirit moves him, and that spirit is moving incessantly. Fitz is quite the fondest proposition that has waited for over the footlight since the theatre opened.

"The Road" B. T. Hawley's grand one-act melodrama with its sensational and tragic climax continues to hold the vast interest of each audience. The play is in the hands of melodramatic productions and is staged and presented in faultless manner.

Some people don't like Mayday acts but that of Chalk and Chalkette, the latter a charming little miss will lift and amuse all. Their ride about anything ever conceived in the wheel line and introduce a lot of good comedy. The Berrens, two exceptionally clever performers on piano and violin, present a classy musical act which includes a most amusing surprise. The Loretta twins on the horizontal triple bars have an act entirely different and ahead of the ordinary bar act. Their work is excellent and most daring. Russell and Gray present a novel singing act, the former singing in three distinct voices, Isabel Pike and her boy tender assistant has also a novel singing act that makes a big hit. Rem Brandt, the great cartoonist drawn with lightning-like rapidity and can draw any old thing.

Honest Statement of
Well Known Citizen

An advertisement of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, which I saw in the St. Albans Messenger some time ago, has induced me to give you ready a fair trial. I was then suffering from terrible pains in the small of my back. The pain was usually greatest during the morning, and often when I attempted to arise from my bed to go to work, I found I could not do so without the assistance of some member of my family. I am very grateful for the good your great remedy has done for me. I thought I would have to use much more Swamp-Root than I did, in order to get well, but am absolutely cured of my kidney trouble and now without the slightest pain after using only seven bottles. Was cured about six months ago, and though I do heavy work in the shop where I have been employed for the past forty-four years, have had no recurrence of the trouble or pain in the slightest degree.

I am doubly thankful for this, and while now an old man, I again feel the strength of my youth, thanks to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Many others also use it to good advantage as I have.

Very truly yours,
JOHN FRAZIER,

At the city of St. Albans in said county, on this 20th day of July, personally before a Notary Public within and for said county, John Frazier, whose mark I hereby witness with W. E. Powers, well known to me as a reputable citizen of this community for the past thirty years and fully entitled to credit and made oath that the foregoing affidavit by him signed is true and correct.

MEN ARRESTED

Police to Make White
Slave Charges

SPRINGFIELD, April 4.—Police investigation of information that Springfield is a recruiting station of white slavery traffickers whose victims are sent to New York and Boston resulted yesterday in the arrests of Nicholas Papula, charged with abduction and abuse; Joseph Papula, charged with abduction; Nicholas Scaria, held as a vagrant; and Minnie Bradley, aged 19, who is said to be a victim of the men.

Recently the Meriden, Conn., police asked the Springfield police to find the Bradley girl and Rose Goettel, who is barely 18. The girls, had gone home in Meriden, it was charged, and had been lured to Springfield. Search for the girls was at first unsuccessful.

Late Tuesday night the police received information from Meriden that a third girl, whose name is withheld, had received a ticket to Springfield from Joseph Papula, who had promised her "a good time" and was to meet her at the railroad station here.

Half a dozen plain clothes men, who also met the train, trailed Papula and the girl to a Water street lodging-house, where the arrests were made. Rose Goettel left the city Tuesday.

The police will offer in court testimony that Nicholas Papula said that he sold the Goettel girl for $50. As two states are involved, Chief Quigg believes that he has a United States case and will lay the matter before the federal authorities.

ers is to be held; provided, however, that the secretary of the commission of the city or town clerk, as the case may be, may provide a duplicate set of ballots for any polling place when he deems it necessary. A sufficient number of printed ballots in state election shall be prepared for voters who may be entitled to vote for a part only of the officers to be voted for in a town. A statement shall be printed on the back of such ballots, in addition to the official endorsement, indicating the class of voters for whose use the ballots are furnished, and such ballots only shall be furnished to such voters.

Section 2.—This act shall take effect upon its passage. (Approved March 13, 1912.)

Roosevelt Headquarters

City Clerk Stephen Flynn received a big bunch of mail this morning containing a great many requests for information that meant a whole lot of work for himself and his clerks. They were the kind of requests, however, that he couldn't very well turn down but that he must attend to as a matter of courtesy.

One of the communications was from the Roosevelt headquarters in Boston and was signed by Matthew Hyde, manager state campaign. He asked the city clerk to mail him a list of registered voters, republicans and democrats, and to "please forward within a day or two."

First Assistant Engineer

George A. Nelson, assistant engineer of sewers and water works, has been promoted to first assistant engineer. Mr. Nelson has been connected with the engineer's department of the city for a good many years and the promotion is well deserved. It does not, however, carry any extra salary with it. "I felt that in the absence of the city engineer," said Commissioner Brown, "there should be someone to represent the department, an engineer, and I felt that Mr. Nelson deserved the promotion. He is a very valuable man and has been with the department a good many years. The promotion does not mean any advance in his salary."

Tour of Inspection

City Solicitor Hennessy, First Assistant Engineer Nelson, Capt. McDonald of the city solicitor's office, Sewell F. Putnam, superintendent of streets, and Mr. Forsythe went out in Commissioner Brown's automobile this forenoon on a tour of inspection of streets and other premises mentioned in claims for personal injuries that are to come before the municipal council for action.

Seeking Information

Smoke Inspector Holloway has addressed communications to "smoke authorities" in Paris, Vienna, Berlin, Rome and other famous cities requesting information relative to methods used in the abatement of the smoke nuisance. The following questions are contained in his letter:

Do you rely entirely upon the records of observation to prosecute violations, or do you fortify your case with additional data such as flue gas tests, etc.?

Do you consider it a competent measure to visit factories for the purpose of instructing firemen and suggesting help?

Have you found any concerted opposition on the part of the manufacturers to pressure brought by your office in enforcing the law?

Would it be considered necessary to frequently visit plants and examine coal supplies?

In factories where fuel used is wood waste, from the manufacture of stoves, bobbins, cones, etc., where constant firing is required; does it present a difficulty to you?

Does the question of the color or density of smoke, from a legal point of view, depend upon the accuracy of the organ of vision or can visual evidence be discredited by chemical detection?

What has been found to be the simplest way to abate the smoke nuisance?

PRESIDENT TAFT

Strongly Urges Economy in Government

WASHINGTON, April 4.—President Taft today sent to congress his second message of the present year on economy and efficiency in the government service. He recommended the passage of legislation designed to save more than $11,000,000 annually to the people of the United States. Probably his two most striking proposals were that the local government offices in the treasury, postoffice, justice, interior and commerce and labor departments, be placed in the classified service and that the revenue cutter service be consolidated with the light-house service on the department of commerce and labor.

By the first change the president said, congress could effect a saving of at least $10,000,000 annually and although in this message he gave no figures for the consolidation of the two services of the sea, in a previous message on the same subject early in the year, had predicted economies that would total about $1,000,000 yearly.

The president concluded his message with an appeal to congress to appropriate the $200,000 necessary to

STEPS TAKEN TO END STRIKE

BRITISH COAL MINERS

Advised by Federation to Return to Work

LONDON, April 4.—The Miners' Federation, after a long conference, decided to advise all the miners in Great Britain to resume work.

The decision of the executive committee of the Miners' Federation today is only the first step toward officially ending the national coal strike and a national conference of the whole of the Miners' Federation will now have to decide whether or not the advice of the executive shall be adopted. This national conference has been summoned to meet Saturday. A surprise awaited the executive committee of the federation when scrutinizing the ballots of the miners. The figures disclosed an unexpectedly large majority of 43,000 against the resumption of work out of a total vote of 445,000. The members of the executive committee, however, finally decided that as a two-thirds majority of the miners had been required to declare the strike a two-thirds majority was also necessary to continue it. They, therefore, resolved to advise the miners to resume work.

In the meantime, the miners in various coal districts without awaiting the decision of their leaders have returned to the pits. Fully 50,000 miners went down the shafts today.

HOME RULE BILL

To be Introduced on April 11

LONDON, April 4.—The Home Rule bill, which is to be introduced by Premier Asquith in the house of commons on April 11, will, according to an evening paper, whose statement is based on the authority of a nationalist member of parliament whose name is not given, provides for an Irish parliament consisting of two houses which will sit in Dublin. Forty representative Irish members will be sent to the house of commons at Westminster. Ireland will make no direct contribution to the imperial revenue. The customs and excise of Ireland will remain under imperial control but the local parliament will have power to vary the duties on articles, although it may not vary the articles themselves. The taxation of Ireland is to continue to be consonant with the financial system of the United Kingdom. The old age pensions and land purchase schemes are to remain under imperial responsibility. The Irish parliament will have no power to impose duties on British goods.

RIOT ACT READ

From the Steps of Silk Mill

PASSAIC, N. J., April 4.—The riot act was read from the steps of the silk mill at Garfield today where a crowd of several hundred strikers had assembled at the opening hour and a double force of police and deputies soon cleared the streets with but little repetition of the disorder of yesterday. Two men and a woman who refused to leave the scene were arrested. The strikers hooted and jeered the operatives who had remained at work but made no effective resistance to the heavy force of guards.

Belmont hall, the strikers headquarters and the scene of the gathering at which William D. Haywood declared he would put Passaic on the map was ordered closed by the police. The strikers have been holding daily meetings there and sought to vain today for another meeting place.

Mr. Patrick Rourke is the father of ex-Alderman Fred H. Rourke and lives in Worthen street.

MAYOR O'DONNELL

Urges Strikers to Return to Work

Next Monday

Mayor O'Donnell this afternoon sent letters to the officers of the Manufacturers' association and to the labor leaders, urging the former to open the mill gates Monday, and the latter to advise the people to return to work pending an adjustment of the wage question which he says he is assured can be made in three weeks.

The mill agents are firm in their decision, and they say they cannot grant a larger increase than was announced on March 25. The Weavers' and the Loomfixers' unions have received letters to that effect. However, about the other grievances, such as Sunday work and pay and a half overtime, the agents say they will meet their help in due time.

The loomfixers' letter was read at the latter's meeting this morning and immediate action was taken, the loomfixers saying they cannot accept the increase offered, and in a letter sent to the agents they announce they are willing to meet their employers at any time to discuss the situation and prove to them that their demand is reasonable.

The weavers held an open meeting at 2 o'clock this afternoon and they were addressed by Mrs. Sara Conboy of Boston, national organizer for the United Textile Workers of America.

The I. W. U. held another parade early this morning. They held a meeting at 10 o'clock in their hall, the meeting being presided over by John Powers in the absence of W. Trautman, who is today in Clinton.

MAYOR O'DONNELL MOVES
TO SETTLE THE STRIKE

Mayor O'Donnell made his first public move relative to the strike this afternoon when he addressed a letter which is given below to Agents Wadleigh and Whittier, representing the Mill Agents' Association. John Golden, the A. F. of L. leader, President John J. Mahoney and Secretary Charles E. Anderson of the Trades and Labor council; Pres. David Cordingley and Sec. Joseph P. Ashton of the Mule Spinners' union; Stanislaus Woznick and Thomas L. Deagan of the Cotton Weavers' union; the officers of the Loomfixers' union and Dr. George A. Demopoulous, the leader of the Greek strikers.

For the past week the Mayor has been in conference with leading men on both sides and the result of his inquiry into the existing conditions is the following letter:

April 4, 1912.

Dear Sir:

As Mayor of Lowell, deeply interested in the welfare of this city and the people generally, inasmuch as a strike for an increase of wages by the employees of our cotton mills has been in progress for about two weeks with no apparent movement toward a satisfactory ending, and with daily information through the press of increases in wages in the textile industry in neighboring cities and towns, I felt it my duty personally to make an investigation into the existing conditions with a view to ending the industrial strife and restoring the city to its wonted peace and prosperity.

With that end in view I have consulted with prominent men on both sides and as a result of my conferences and the knowledge I have thereby acquired I would respectfully submit the following suggestion:

Open all the mills now closed on next Monday, April 8, under the new schedule of wages of March 25th; instruct the operatives of the different unions to return on that day and work for at least three weeks under that scale. Then if the wage conditions have not been satisfactorily adjusted, the operatives shall make such specific demands as they may desire and in the event of being refused, to cease work and employ all legitimate means to bring about that betterment of conditions that they now seek. By so doing it cannot then be said that the new wage scale was not given a fair trial. I am actuated in making this suggestion by a very strong assurance that in the event of the operatives returning to work on next Monday the mill authorities within three weeks will have adjusted the present difference in a manner that will be satisfactory to the employees.

Respectfully,
James E. O'Donnell,
Mayor of Lowell.

MILL AGENTS
REPLY TO LOOMFIXERS

This morning, however, after the letter issued to the press as well as their reply to the said letter.

The letter is as follows:

Lowell, Mass., April 3.

Secretary Loomfixers' union

Dear Sir:

Replying to yours of the 30th ult., we regret to say that we are unable to meet the advance you suggest.

In the readjustment of wages announced last week we went over the question carefully and believed the result would be satisfactory to you. Certainly the advance given you is all our terms conditions permit at the present time.

In relation to minor grievances referred to by you, as well as any possible inequalities in our schedules, we assure you that we are willing to meet you at the proper moment.

Yours truly,
Stephen F. Whittier,
Secretary.

This question as above stated was discussed at length and the following resolutions were drawn by the executive committee and later referred to the meeting and were accepted. They will be mailed today to the mill agents.

The resolutions are as follows:

Moved—That inasmuch as the increase in wages granted in other large mill centers, and later followed by other places throughout New England, is larger than that offered by the Manufacturers' association of Lowell, be it

Resolved—That we instruct our executive committee to notify the secretary of the Manufacturers' association that we cannot consistently accept the terms offered by the mill agents as contained in the proposition of March 25th. Be it further

Resolved—That we reaffirm our former position, namely, that we stand ready at any time when convenient to the mill agents to confer with them with a view of making an effort to convince them of the justice of our claims.

Loom Fixers' Union, No. 734, Lowell, Mass.

THE WEAVERS ADDRESSED
BY SEVERAL SPEAKERS

A very large meeting of the local weavers was held this afternoon at the weavers' union hall, 27 Middle street. The meeting was opened by Thomas J. Regan, secretary of the local Weavers' union, and the speakers were John Golden, national president of the United Textile Workers of America, Mrs. Sara Conboy, of Boston, national organizer for the U. T. W. A., Carl West of Pittsburgh, Pa., organizer general for the American Federation of Labor, and Joseph T. Lusk of New York, organizer for the U. T. W. A. The latter speaking in the Polish language.

The Weavers' union has received a reply from the mill agents concerning the demands they presented a few days ago. The members of the union refuse as yet to disclose the contents of the letter, and it will not be taken before the meeting until tomorrow afternoon when a regular meeting will be held at 22 Middlesex street at 2 o'clock.

As far as can be learned, however, the letter is about on the same plain as that of the loomfixers, that is that the agents cannot grant a larger increase than was announced on March 25. The said letter will be discussed tomorrow and it is probable immediate action will be taken and a reply sent to the agents.

THE MULE SPINNERS
WANT THE ADVANCE

At a meeting of the Mule Spinners' union held this morning several members called the attention of the body to the statement in certain papers that they were satisfied with the concessions that were made by the mill agents in the new wage schedule of March 25th. Since this concession was granted by the agents, conditions have changed by the general advance of ten per cent. in wages by the cotton manufacturers of New England, the mule spinners feel that as there has been a general advance of ten per cent. Lowell should be no exception to the rule.

MAYOR O'DONNELL HOPES SETTLEMENT WILL BE MADE

Relative to his letter to mill agents and officers of labor unions, Mayor O'Donnell said:

"My impression is, as a result of conversations with some of the prominent mill agents, that they will be disposed to meet the situation in a manner that will be satisfactory to the operatives, and I certainly hope so for the sake of the operatives in particular and the whole city in general. I hope these suggestions will be taken in the spirit in which they are made—that of the prosperity of Lowell."

THE STRIKE COMMITTEE
HELD MEETING THIS MORNING

The meeting of the strike committee was held at the I. W. U. hall today and the attendance was noticeably smaller than at the former meetings. This was due, the chairman said, to the fact that many of the strikers were out of town today soliciting money for the strike. The meeting was called to order at 10:30 by John Powers, who acted as chairman. Sec. Coppens read the minutes of the last meeting and they were accepted as read. Reports were heard from all the delegations. The Portuguese reported that some of the Portuguese grocery dealers said that if the strike continued they would close their stores. The delegates said that if the stores are closed the Portuguese will start an I. W. U. store. The Belgian delegates reported that at the meeting of their nationality last evening it was decided not to pay rent during the strike. This statement caused much discussion.

The Lithuanian delegate said that the drum of the Lithuanian band was broken in the Lawrence parade and it was decided to report the matter to the innance committee. Organizer Papadone from New Bedford spoke and said that the Portuguese are firm.

The English speaking delegate reported no change in the situation.

WHERE'S HER SISTER?

Relatives or Heirs of

MILITIA CALLED OUT

Martial Law Declared at the New York Mills Near Utica

UTICA, N. Y., April 4.—Martial law has been declared at New York mills in a suburb of this city because of a strike of employees in the several mills of the New York Mills company. The National guardsmen, comprising two companies in this city, are now under arms at the armory here and will march to the villages today and be patrolled until the strike is settled or the people become quiet. All saloons have been ordered closed within the villages.

The sheriff and his deputies were on guard at the mills yesterday and last night for the strikers became very ugly yesterday. The trouble was intensified because the company attempted to have a number of foremen and others who were willing to work enter the mill to do some needed repairing.

Thousands of dollars worth of stock was in danger of being spoiled unless the mills could be cleaned up. The strikers objected to anybody entering the mills for any purpose and made threats against the deputies who attempted to guard men who were engaged in this work. The Polish women joined in with the men and patrolled the streets, holding up everybody who approached the mills and forbidding them to enter. One of the women threw a couple of red peppers in the face of a deputy sheriff who attempted to disperse a crowd of threatening strikers. She and six men were arrested and have been brought to the jail in this city. After this the situation became so tense that Sheriff Becker asked for the co-operation of the militia.

END OF THE STRIKE

Boston Mill Men Expect it Will Come Soon

BOSTON, April 4.—The general advance of about ten per cent. just made in nearly all the cotton mills in New England means an increase of a quarter cent a yard for most goods, according to estimates made by mill men today. "Print cloths, prints, gray goods and sheeting are all up a half-cent a yard. Cambric and dail have been notched up one-quarter of a cent. It is expected that these advances will be sufficient to meet the increased manufacturing cost and furnish a normal profit once more. But the mills will not get the benefit until mid-summer and by that time three years of no profit conditions will have rolled around.

The general advance will cost the cotton mills about $10,000,000 additional yearly, based on an all-combined payroll of $100,000,000 for upwards of 200,000 persons.

Among the latest manufacturers to concede a raise of five per cent. are

Bills, Ealyan & Co. of Boston and New York who control mills in Ware, Palmer, Thorndike, Bondville, West Warren and Milbury, Mass., and Greenville and New Ipswich, N. H. The 4,000 operatives of the George Gilbert Mfg. Co. worked mills in Ware and Gilbertville received a second five per cent. advance today.

The strike and lockout situation in Lowell was considered at a meeting of certain New England manufacturers here last Friday and it was decided to support the Lowell mills and make no further concessions. This action was further reconsidered with the result that notices of a second advance were posted this week in all northern New England cotton mills except those controlled by interests identified with the Lowell management.

An early adjustment of the strikes in Lowell, Clinton, North Adams and West Warren is looked for by many Boston mill men.

ALLEN BANDITS

Reported to Have Been

RICHMOND, Va., April 4.—An unconfirmed report has reached here that Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards were killed near Volunteer Gap and two detectives wounded in a fight this morning.

The report of the alleged battle between the detective posse and the Millsville outlaws came by long distance telephone from Mount Airy, N. C., and is based on a story told to a rural mail carrier by negroes living between Mount Airy and Volunteer Gap.

KNOX IN GUATEMALA

He Says the Washington Conventions Must be Adhered to

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala, April 4.—Guatemala has not been especially punctilious in observing its obligations under the Central American peace pact of 1907, and only recently Salvador had occasion to complain and invite the good offices of the American State department to secure her territorial rights against Guatemalan aggression.

Mr. Knox, evidently had this in mind when he delivered his formal address at the president's dinner last night. It must have required some courage after the kindly style in which he had been entertained, and surrounded by men who appeared to draw their breath by the assurance of the best, for the secretary to stand up and declare in language that could not be misunderstood that the strict adherence of Guatemala to the Washington conventions was inseparable from any hope of future prosperity, advancement and peace. These conventions provide that disputes between the five republics shall be submitted to the peace tribunal at Gortage; that no government shall invade the territory of another, or permit within their own boundaries the outfitting of revolutionary expeditions against a sister republic. The secretary said in part:

"Guatemala in its position of close proximity to the United States, where there is ever ready an eager market for its products, and with its dense population occupies indeed an enviable position among the Central American nations. This position will be rendered increasingly desirable as time goes on and the development of your country's enormous possibilities is accomplished. And Mr. President, I may have remarked without a just cause, in making any view not equally shared by yourself, that the continuous development and permanent advancement of the republic depend on its stable economic conditions as well as upon its domestic contentment and consequent repose. The unvarying friendship of the government of the United States for republican institutions in this hemisphere and its desire to see them preserved free from interference are too well known and understood to need words of reiteration from me. From the very inception of and even before the independence of the Latin American nations, the attitude of the American government, which later was not mistakenly announced by President Monroe, was well known and it continues undiminished to the present day.

"In Central America the United States has a special interest not only because of the proximity of the five republics to the great commercial highway now nearing completion in Panama, but also because of its moral obligations under the Washington conventions. The maintenance of peace and stable conditions in these republics is a matter of first importance to my government. The faithful observance of these conventions will, in the opinion of my government, go far towards the elimination of the trouble that has hitherto shaken the very foundations of some of the less fortunate and less tranquil countries.

"In conclusion, Mr. President, allow me to indulge the hope that the relations between our respective countries may become increasingly cordial and close to the mutual benefit of both."

This speech if published here, as it probably will not be, may measure a good many who have addressed the secretary because of his part in breaking the tyranny of President Zelaya of Nicaragua and some of whom, unfamiliar with the necessities of diplomacy, must have been bewildered to see this champion of republicanism accepting the hospitality of the most notorious dictator now tolerated under a pretense of popular government.

No Press Censorship

An editor of a local paper asked if the government censorship was forever repealed. "No, there is no censorship. It is unnecessary. The editors understand perfectly what the government wishes published or not published." The city has two papers recognized as official organs and a third, "La Compania," the unorthodox "opposition" weekly. The latter bold voice of the people spoke the only word of dissent regarding the American mission. In its issue of two weeks ago today, a copy of which was surreptitiously furnished for inspection, Mr. Knox was described as a bird of ill omen and its readers were advised to drop their windows in black on the day of his advent in the capital. Indeed, as every intelligent Guatemalan knows that "La Compania" is also secretly directed by the government as constituted in the person of Cabrera, its attitude offers a subject of speculation. Perhaps it was a rap for the "antis," and possibly like the appearance in public of the president, it was intended to draw attention to the freedom of republicanism in Guatemala on the same theory that a partial admission is stronger sometimes than an unequivocal denial.

Later tonight many of the street arches were stripped of their decorations by vandals. It was explained: A similar incident occurred upon the last night of Admiral Swinhurn's visit some years ago, and no political significance

AFTER LONG SUFFERING

These Two Women's Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Read Their Own Statements.

Cheneyville, La.—"Some time ago when in poor health, suffering from feminine ills, I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. I soon felt better and gained in strength and flesh. A gradual improvement continued as I took the Compound, and from 120 pounds I now weigh 155, and feel that my life has been prolonged."

"I deeply regret that I did not know of your medicine long before I did. Friends often speak of the wonderful change in my health, and I tell them that your medicine did it."—Mrs. J. W. STANLEY, Cheneyville, La.

Distressing Case of Mrs. M. Gary, Chicago, Ill.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for backache and it has certainly made a new woman of me. After my first baby was born I was left a perfect wreck. I was so weak I could hardly do my household duties and suffered with an awful backache. But since I have used your Compound the pains in my back have left me and I am strong again."

"My mother used it also through Change of Life and speaks very highly of it. You can use this letter any way you wish. I think it is only fair for one who has suffered as much as I, to let others know of your great remedy."—Mrs. M. GARY, 2958 N. Ridgeway Ave., Chicago, Ill.

was to be attached to the matter, the camp followers of Knox were told. Indeed, no significance, political, or otherwise, was to be attached to anything done in Guatemala without the express direction of the president.

Terrible Massacre

A few years ago the entrance to the palace where the correspondents were stationed with blood when William Helmske, now American minister to Salvador, called to present his credentials to Cabrera. A company of cadets, at a prearranged signal, had fired upon the president as he appeared in the doorway. They were young and nervous and their aim was bad. Cabrera received a bullet through a hand which he had raised to greet his guests. The bullet grazed, alarmed at the sound of firing, fell upon the cadets before they could fire again, and there followed a massacre that no Guatemalan will describe truthfully. Twenty-five or thirty cadets were killed on the spot, but so quickly were the bodies removed that when Mr. Helmske drove up a few minutes later only pools of blood in the court yard remained to tell of the tragedy, and there were soon washed away. The captain of cadets who escaped the onslaught was promised his life if he would reveal the identity of the master mind of the conspiracy, but the young officer told the president, so the story runs, that he would not do so. Not one word to the plot was told, and the widow of a slain cadet, out of gratitude for financial assistance from the government, turned over certain personal effects of her husband, and among them, innocently, some correspondence. It is alleged, which led to wholesale arrests. It is said that in the year following the attempt, 500 lives were sacrificed in retaliation for the bullet wound in Cabrera's right hand.

The most recent known attempt upon the president left him unharmed, but cost the life of his coachman, who was a party to the plot of one or two others, and the wounding of a general who was in a carriage with the president. The coachman, however, is believed to have been instructed to stop the presidential carriage at a certain point where a mine was to be exploded beneath it. He made the error of stopping not the carriage, but the horses direct, over the explosive, and upon its discharge, was blown to pieces with the rest.

In justice to Cabrera and his methods, it should be added that under his rule, Guatemala has prospered in peace, while some republics, notably Nicaragua, have all but died to death from self-inflicted wounds. His better class are intelligent and fine looking. The public buildings are works of art and the schools are a credit to the country. Strange enough, many Americans in the capital, while prepared to admit any accusation against the president, defended his rule and asked how otherwise could be controlled 2,000,000 people, three-fourths of whom are half-tamed Indians? These cynically pointed to Mexico, under Diaz, and Mexico, now, adding, "After Cabrera, what?"

LOMASNEY BILL

FOR CHANGE IN BOSTON CITY CHARTER REJECTED

BOSTON, April 4.—Boston's city charter will stay unamended. The most important attempt to amend the charter (a bill providing for a city council of 25) failed decisively in the state senate yesterday afternoon.

The motion to substitute this bill for the adverse committee report was defeated on a rollcall 13 to 22 with two pairs.

Against this bill, which was sponsored by Representative Lomasney, four senators voted nay, namely: Senators Burton, Chase, Ross, McLean and Schumaker.

The margin against the bill proposed yesterday precludes any successful attempt at reconsideration.

MANY CANDIDATES

FOR PLACES ON THE HIGH SCHOOL TEAM

As a result of a visit to the Lawrence High school by Messrs. Leggat, Canby and Bailey, captains of the Lowell tennis, relations between the two schools may be resumed. The local boys had a long conference with Principal Horne, but as the talk was informal nothing definite was agreed upon. The grievances existing between the schools were discussed and several matters were ironed out. It is hoped that everything will be settled in a satisfactory manner and that activities will soon be resumed.

At the annex yesterday baseball practice was held under the direction of Captain Canby. A big squad was out and the captain was well satisfied with the showing of the candidates. He feels confident that Lowell will have a strong team when the season opens.

OPERATED ON FOR APPENDICITIS

NEW YORK, April 4.—Dr. Joseph Blake, head surgeon of the Presbyterian hospital here, who has operated on scores of distinguished Americans for appendicitis, is himself convalescing today from an operation performed a few days ago by his assistant, Dr. Charles Peck. Dr. Blake has been a sufferer from chronic appendicitis for several months. The operation was entirely successful.

Two of Dr. Blake's most recent appendicitis operations were performed on the same day on Cornelius Vanderbilt and Dr. Charles Mayo, the distinguished Minnesota surgeon.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT

Said in Speech Last Night That Pres. Taft is a Reactionary

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 4.—President Taft's statement that he is a progressive was disputed by Col. Roosevelt in a speech here last night. The ex-president said that Mr. Taft in some of his acts had shown himself a reactionary.

In support of this contention, Col. Roosevelt went over the record of the present administration in certain particulars and criticized it sharply. The colonel's speech came at the end of the first day of his week of campaigning through West Virginia, Kentucky, Illinois and Pennsylvania. He broke his record for speeches for the present campaign, delivering 15 yesterday. All but two were given at railway stations from his car. Everywhere he found large crowds and a cordial reception.

The speech last night was delivered in an auditorium.

"In his recent speech at Philadelphia," Col. Roosevelt said, "President Taft stated that he was a progressive and this raises the question as to what a progressive is."

GRAND EASTER SALE

Now is the time to buy REAL ESTATE or a HOME.

We have property for sale in all parts of the city. Consult with me as to what you want, as without a doubt I have it, and if I haven't I will find just what you want.

My Specialty is in the High Lands of Lowell

Such as:

"LOWELL HIGHLANDS"
"CENTRALVILLE HEIGHTS"
—AND—
"BELVIDERE HEIGHTS"

I have had as many as a dozen different parties come to me and want me to sell different tracts of land, but I was determined to seek after and I obtained the EXCLUSIVE SALE of what is the best residential part of Centralville. As I am a firm believer in the high lands of any part of the city I sought to secure and did secure the highest land in Centralville and have named this choicest section

CENTRALVILLE HEIGHTS

WHERE IS IT?

Well, I will tell you. Take the Christian Hill car, go up Christian Hill and as the car turns around the corner from Tenth street into Beacon street have the car stopped and you get off, take a one minute walk up Tenth street, on the right hand side and towards the new reservoir, and there you are. Turn around, look towards the city and see the Grand Panoramic view of Lowell's great mills and all her varied industries and beautiful homes and the winding Merrimack river, and look off towards the hills and mountains of New Hampshire and you will behold one of the grandest views that God made when he made this earth.

There are 31 house lots and you can have your choice of any one of them if you come early to the sale. These lots are located on Tenth, Munroe, Llewellyn and Richards streets and lay between Tenth street and the new reservoir, and contain from 4200 to 5635 square feet.

The Ground Floor Prices are from 8c to 10c per square foot, a few of the choicest lots a little higher. These lots will be sold on easy terms, and we stand ready to build houses on this property on the rental plan to the right parties.

One of our leading physicians has remarked that the air at Centralville Heights is more healthful than in any other part of the city as you get the mountain air from one side and the salt air from the Atlantic Ocean, coming up the Merrimack river, from the other side. No excuse to have to go to the seaside or the mountains for a change of air. When this physician reads this he will see his own remarks in print for the first time.

I firmly believe that this, the highest part of Centralville, is just what the home-seeking people of Centralville, and people wishing to locate in this section of the city, have been looking for for a long time. Centralville people love their own neighborhood and most of them refuse to move out of Centralville, although from time to time I have offered them several of my choicest sites, such as the "LOWELL HIGHLANDS," land around the Highland Club House and Belvidere, and other sections of the city.

I am a high land man and wherever I look for land to sell I look for high land.

Now, I prophesy that any lot which is bought now, at the prices named above, the purchaser can make from $100 to $300 on every lot between now and next Easter. This was true at the "LOWELL HIGHLANDS," and I know of several parties who made over $300 on the lot they bought at our opening prices.

No lots can be bought and no deposits on any one of these lots will be accepted until the

OPENING SALE

Saturday, April 13th, at 2 P. M.

We will show these lots to you at any time you wish to see them or you can go and see them yourself alone, if you wish, but I will not sell any, as they are on show only until the sale.

I have always advised the Real Estate Buyers in regard to the buying of house lots to their financial advantage, and seldom, if ever, has the customer failed to make a profit, if he sold it or has been helped and shown by me how to secure and own a home, and I point with pride to the many satisfied customers in this city, who would not have owned their own home if I had not first influenced them to buy a house lot and then to build their own home.

"YOUR SATISFACTION IS OUR SUCCESS"

Now Stop paying rent just as soon as you possibly can. You have got to take the first step and that step is to buy a house lot. Consult, at any time, about this first step with

Twenty-Seven Were Taken From the Steamship Cretic

BOSTON, April 4.—In a steel water tank on the "olive deck," two decks below the stowage of the steamship Cretic, 24 men and three small boys stowaways were found yesterday afternoon by police inspectors and interpreters of the immigration department.

It was in regard to these stowaways that an official at Naples, whose name has not been revealed, wrote March 18 to Deputy Supt. William B. Watts of the police department. The official suspected that some of the stowaways were Black Hand men and that they were being assisted in their efforts to enter this country by men employed by the steamship line as interpreters. He advised Deputy Watts to have the steamship searched thoroughly.

Based on certain other information that Deputy Watts' friend, imported a warrant was obtained yesterday in the United States court against Andrea Schiavino, 59 years old, and Giovanni Gaggero, 32 years old, and they were arrested late yesterday afternoon aboard the Cretic by Deputy Marshals

Bancroft and Cameron. They were held at Station 2, Court square, last night on a charge of conspiring to bring in and land in this country certain aliens not entitled to entrance under the immigration laws.

Declarer Grew Helped Them
The persons found in the water tank are detained at the immigration office and will be examined today and if they desire, be given a hearing before special boards on the question of deportation.

The moment they were found by interpreters William Hartland and Nicola Gallotti one of the older men in the group admonished everybody to have nothing to say and most of them obeyed.

A few of them admitted that they had paid small sums of money to persons who assisted them in Naples and promised to get them into this country safely, and others declared they were allowed to mingle among the steerage passengers after boarding the boat and were provided with meals by the crew. They also declared that about a week ago they were directed to the hiding place in the tank by members of the crew and were there supplied with blankets, food and water. They said they doubted if they could identify the men who befriended them, as it was very dark at the time. Immigration Commissioner George F. Billings and a squad of his men boarded the liner at quarantine in the morning and while the ship was moving through the upper harbor parts of the vessel were searched.

After the steamer looked Deputy Supt. Watts and inspectors Wolf, Lynch, Loughlin, Kilday and O'Neil went aboard and a systematic search was begun. The men from headquarters searched one part of the steamer while Commissioner Billings divided his 15 men into squads.

The crew, numbering nearly 500 men, were mustered on the deck while the search was in progress.

Hartland Makes Quick Exit
About 2:30 p. m. Hartland and Gallotti had examined the steerage and then insisted on being taken through a trap door that led below. The steamer's officer accompanying them demurred at first, but finally consented.

Hartland observed that arrows on the top of the water tank on the orlop deck seemed to be loose. The tank had not been opened for 10 years, the officer told him. Hartland said he thought a reopening was due and the officer consented, after persuasion. The ship's carpenter had to be sent for before the cover could be taken off. Small holes in the cover, which resembled that of a manhole, admitted air.

Alongside the inside of the tank, which is about 15 feet deep and 30 feet in circumference, is an iron ladder, and down that the interpreter went. The hum of voices stirred him. He realized that he had found the stowaways, but did not wish to take chances alone, and quickly returned to the top. As he did so a voice in Italian said: "We give up."

Hartland regained the top of the tank, adjusted the cover and sat upon it, while Gallotti went to find Commissioner Billings and Deputy Commissioner Hurley. The whole party of searchers came and the police descended into the tank and ordered the people inside to climb out.

Meanwhile station 15 at City square was notified and Capt. George T. Yonson sent all his available men to the dock in the patrol wagon. As many of the stowaways as could be accommodated were placed in the wagon and driven to the police station. The others were led through the streets by the inspectors and the police of division 15. Hundreds of persons flocked around the steamship dock and the police soon found it difficult to get their prisoners through the crowd.

The 27 stowaways were placed in cells until charges came to convey them to the immigration office at Long Wharf. Some of them produced passports. The police said it was apparent that a majority of them were suffering from trachoma and other diseases which would make their admission to this country doubtful.

One of the three boys in the party, Raffaele Crangrati, barely three feet in height, and only 11 years old, had run away from his grandmother, according to his story. He said his parents are in New York and he wanted to join them because he had become lonesome after they had come to America.

Dominico Perrecci, 12 years old, stowed away with an elder brother. The other boy is Giuseppe Barberi, who said he was 16 years old, but looked younger.

Most of the talking at the police station was done by Vincenzo Griffo, who speaks English very well, although he claims he has never been in the country before. He said he learned the language while employed on a steamer running between English ports and Cape Town. He produced a discharge from the Italian army. Griffo said he had paid a small sum of money to a man in Naples for the privilege of stowing away and expected it would be possible for him to get off the Cretic after dark last evening. According to his story most of the stowaways were in poor shape physically and resorted to that method of getting into the country, because they were convinced they would be rejected should they try to make a regular entry.

Giuseppe Gizzo said he paid $12 before he got aboard the boat at Naples. He has been in America before, he says, leaving Scranton, Pa., 22 months ago. Gizzo said he is not a Black Hand man and does not believe that any of his companions are.

Not Telling All They Know

The men taken from the tank are: Avariano Aspera, 26 years old, who said that his wife is in New York; Antonio Cacihiapuali, aged 27; Nicola De Santis, 19; Giuseppe Curato, 19; Antonio Pini, 23; Pietro Zarelli, 19; Giuseppe Bodano, 17; Giuseppe Barbore, 16; Antonio Ruggiero, 23; Antonio D. Vito, 21, married; Gaetano Gizzo, 25, married; Felice Vecchini, 16; Francesco Patricelli, 26, married; Rocco De Cola, 16; Giovanni Scalfardi, 19; Luigi Imperato, 27; Verino Perrecci, 16; Dominico Perrecci, 12; Raffaele Crangrati, 11; Vincenzo Griffo, 21; Vittorio Occhione, 19; Eduardo Boye, 25; Vito Vianantonio Luongo, 34, married; Francesco Carbone, 33; Dolan Coni, 19; Fiore W. Antenti, 24, and Camara Zoccano, 28.

The immigration officials are satisfied the stowaways are not telling all they know. It was apparent, the authorities declared, that there was collusion. According to admissions of the stowaways they were allowed to mingle with the regular steerage passengers while the steamer was on the Atlantic. The immigration officials intend to find out who is responsible for the men being aboard.

Deputy Supt. Watts was elated when the stowaways were found, saying it proved that his friend in Naples had sufficient reason for advising him regarding the party, and that it may develop some of the men are more than ordinary stowaways. Recently a man who conducted a murder at Genoa escaped, and according to advisers it was his intention to embark on one of the liners.

The chief officers of the Cretic were dumfounded when they learned of the presence of the large number of stowaways, but disclaimed any responsibility.

CITY BEAUTIFUL

Board of Trade Urges Planting of Trees

The City Beautiful committee of the Lowell board of trade will make an effort within the next three weeks to interest the people of Lowell in the planting of trees. A contract has been made with a first class nursery to deliver healthy guaranteed maple and poplar trees at very moderate cost. For further information apply to Secretary Murphy of the board of trade, telephone 450.

The trees are young and hardy, the trunk measuring about 2 inches in diameter and the tree is about 8 to 10 feet tall. Arrangements have been made to have experienced men plant the trees for 50 cents each for those who may desire such service.

The trees are to be paid for when delivered and no money is to be paid the agents.

It is earnestly hoped that the people will assist the board in this undertaking and already many orders have been received at the office of the secretary.

The following is a list of noted trees:

The Elm tree at Philadelphia, under which William Penn made his famous treaty with the Indians at Hartford, which preserved the written guarantee of the liberties of the Colony of Connecticut. The white-spreading Oak tree of Flushing, Long Island, under which George Fox, the founder of the Society of Friends, preached. The lofty Cypress tree in the Diamond Swamp, under which Washington rested one night in his young manhood. The huge French Apple tree near Ft. Wayne, Ind., where Little Turtle, the great Miami chief, gathered his warriors. The Elm tree at Cambridge in the shade of which Washington first took command of the Continental army, on a hot summer's day. The Tulip tree on King's Mountain battlefield in South Carolina, on which the bloodthirsty Tories were hung at one time. The tall Pine tree at Ft. Mifflin, N. Y., under which the beautiful

Jane McCrea was slain. The magnificent Black Walnut tree near Haverstraw on the Hudson at which General Wayne mustered his forces at midnight, preparatory to his gallant and successful attack on Stony Point. The grand Magnolia tree near Charleston, S. C., under which General Lincoln held a council of war previous to surrendering the city. The great Pecan tree at Villere's plantation, below New Orleans, under which a portion of the remains of General Pakenham was buried. The Pear trees planted, respectively, by Governor Endicott of Massachusetts and Governor Stuyvesant of New York, more than 200 years ago. The Freedman's Oak, or Emancipation Oak, Hampton, Virginia, under which the slaves of this region first heard read President Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation. The Elm Oak of Newton, Mass., under which the apostle John Elliot, taught the Indians Christianity. The old Liberty Elm of Boston, planted and dedicated by a schoolmaster to the independence of the colonies, and the rallying point for patriots before, during and after the Revolutionary war. The Burgoyne Elm at Albany, N. Y., planted the day Burgoyne was brought there a prisoner. The Ash and Tulip trees, planted at Washington by Washington. The Elm tree, planted by General Grant on the capital grounds at Washington. Sequoia-Pale Alto, California. The Cary Tree, planted by Alice and Phoebe Cary in 1832, a large and beautiful sycamore, seen from the Hamilton turnpike, between College hill and Mt. Pleasant, Hamilton county, Ohio.

BISHOP HUGHES

Y. M. C. A. Course

Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, of San Francisco, gave the first of the Y. M. C. A. course of lectures on the Bible at the First Baptist church last night. "There is," said the speaker, "an institutional conception of the word of God. We have been taught, the most of us, from infancy, that the Bible is precisely what is claimed for it by the adjective that we put before the noun, —namely, 'holy.' We assume, therefore, a certain reverent attitude toward the supreme religious history of all this world's great volumes.

"In addition to this there is a certain religious attitude toward the book which may be called almost subliminal in its character. The Bible seems sometimes closely related to Sunday. It may well come about that there is a subliminal attitude and an every-day attitude; and the problem of the minister is to get men to take their Sabbath attitude and make it their habitual attitude. It is perfectly safe to suggest that in the long run the subliminal attitude toward the book will be tremendously influenced by the week-day attitude toward the same great volume.

"There is not only the institutional attitude and the subliminal attitude; there is also a certain controversial attitude, that is widely emphasized today. There are few people who are not aware that a certain kind of controversy is raging about the Scriptures, and sometimes we have been made uneasy about it. Frequently, in the midst of this controversy we lose our good spirit. The conservative is frequently a good deal of a spiritual pharisee. One of the principal difficulties has been that we have been wrestled and turned from a certain individual relation to the book."

"The Bible, he said, was not primarily intended to be used by the humanist, the scientist, the geographer or the historian. You can get pretty good mathematics out of a hymn book; if that is what you want; but it is not the primary purpose of the book. On the other hand, if I wanted music, you would not hand me an arithmetic."

"Speaking of the common criticism of the early chapters of Genesis, he said: 'I do not know whether these chapters are history, parable, or allegory; but I do know: that when the Bible tells us that there came an issue between God and the human soul that he had fashioned, I know there is a spiritual truth about myself, and if I want to be instructed in righteousness, the instruction is there.

"It is the same with the book of Job. Whether it is parable, history or allegory, I know that away back in those times one man got hold of the idea that suffering is not always a result of sin. It was needed in those days. Have you ever thought what a terrible world this would be if every sick room became a room of suspicion and positive penalty? I do not care whether you call the story of Job a parable, an allegory or history. I know that away back yonder, when man's conception was narrow, some man under the inspiration of God, and with a grasp of the idea that when a man turns his ship away from the path of his duty, he is going to get into trouble. Do not let any amateur theologian drag you into a debate about the size of a whale's throat."

"Finally, what you get out of the Bible depends on the religious instinct which you bring to the Bible. There are business men here who would have a hard time if they were left alone with the poems of Tennyson and told that they must spend five hours in studying the poems. Why? Because business has crowded poetry out of their hearts. No man has a right to murder poetry in his own nature, and then blame the poets. Bring the religious instinct and the religious purpose to the Bible, and the Bible will feed that instinct and purpose; and there is enough there to keep you busy forever and forevermore."

Shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart after slight exertion is a sure sign of lack of blood.

Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from your druggist today. Do not delay. Begin the treatment now. Then write the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a copy of the booklet, "Building up the Blood." It is free upon request. If you cannot get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills readily near home send 50c for one box or $2.50 for half a dozen, by mail, postpaid.

Thin, Impure Blood in the Springtime

As winter passes away it leaves many people feeling weak, depressed and easily tired. The body lacks that vital force and energy which pure blood alone can give.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an
all-year-round blood-builder and nerve tonic but they are especially useful in the spring. Every dose helps to make new, rich, red blood. Returning strength
commences with their use and the vigor and cheerfulness of good health quickly follow.

There is just one cure for lack of blood and that is more blood. Food is the material from which blood is made but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills double the blood-making value of the food we eat. They give strength, tone up the stomach, aid weak digestion,
clear the complexion of pimples, eruptions and boils,
and drive out rheumatic poisons.

If you are pale and sallow, if you feel continually
"tired out," breathless after slight exertion, if you have headaches and backaches, if you are irritable, nervous,
shaky, if your joints ache, if your step is uncertain, if your appetite fails and food does not nourish nor sleep
refresh you, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will help you.

To build up the blood is the special purpose of Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills and that is why they are the best spring medicine. If you feel the need of a tonic
this spring give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial
and you will rejoice in new health, new strength and new energy. Do not let the trying weather of summer find you weak and ailing.

A CURE IN LYNN

Mrs. William Clark, of No. 12 North
Common terrace, Lynn, Mass., says:
"I was so sick with anemia that I could not walk up stairs. No one can know how I suffered. I was very pale
and had severe headaches with dizzy spells. I was so short of breath that I couldn't go up stairs. My stomach was very weak, food didn't agree with me
and I had but little appetite. I became discouraged with my doctor's treatment as he did not help me at all.
Finally I decided that I would take Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills instead. I began to feel better by the time I had taken
a few boxes and was soon able to eat
heartily. I gained in strength until
my health was restored."

ANOTHER IN WORCESTER

Miss Abella Fanjoy, of No. 49
North Ashland street, Worcester,
Mass., says: "When I was seventeen
years of age I was rapidly going into a decline and had such a knocking cough that I could not sleep without groaning. I lost color and strength,
I had severe headaches and dizzy spells
as often as two or three times a day.
My mother had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with benefit and had me try them. Although I had been sick four or five months, the pills helped me.
I used a number of boxes and felt like
a new person."

GRAND ARMY MEN

Brought Their Encampment to
a Close Last Night

BOSTON, April 4.—The 46th encampment of the Massachusetts department of the Grand Army of the Republic ended amid great enthusiasm
at the American House last night.
During the two days the comrades have had with them their commander-in-chief, Judge Harvey M. Trimble of Hillsdale, to encourage them in their work.

Yesterday, at 10 a. m., the last session was opened at Faneuil hall. Several times the business was interrupted
by the arrival of delegations from
the W. R. C. S. of V. Ladies of the G. A. R., Army Nurses, S. of V. Auxiliary and the D. of V. All were given
a cordial reception.

At the session this morning the first
interesting incident was the introduction of David Walsh a well-known

member of Post 5, Lynn, one of the delegates who attended the first encampment, 46 years ago, and he rejoiced that the work then inaugurated
had done so much good.

Past Commander John D. Billings
of the committee on resolutions presented its report, which approved a change in the basis of representation
to the department encampment from
one in 35 to one in 25. An amendment
making it one in 25 was adopted by 185 to 123.

A resolution praying for legislative action that will preserve the battle
flags in the state house was unanimously endorsed by the committee and
also by the encampment.

Gift for Commander Fiske
Past Commander J. Payson Bradley
called attention to the matter of the proposed erection by the Daughters
of Veterans of a monument to the army nurses and by a hand vote of the delegates and also by those in the gallery, the proposition that each member of the Grand Army in this state give $1 was unanimously indorsed. The matter was referred to the incoming council of administration
for carrying the vote into effect.

Col. John E. McElroy of Washington
was escorted to the platform by the
officer of the day and was warmly
received. The colonel was a candidate
last year at Rochester for commander-
in-chief.

Capt. Linus Clark of Post 11,
Charlestown, presented to the retiring department commander, Granville C.
Fiske, in behalf of the aids who had
been on his staff during his administration, a beautiful gold watch and
chain as a mark of appreciation. Mrs.
Fiske was also presented with a diamond pendant.

The department commander appointed the following staff: Assistant adjutant general, Wilfred A. Wether-head; assistant quartermaster general, Eugene D. Sanborn; department inspector, Lewis C. Clarke; chief mustard officer, B. J. Beach, Post 149; patriotic instructor, Edward O. Skelton, Post 191; judge advocate, John H.

Hurdy, Post 35; chief of staff, G. C.
Fiske, Post 15.

At the close of the session the members went to the New American House
where tables had been prepared for 500, and every seat was occupied.

Wants Names of Gettysburg Men
Gov. Foss and Mayor Fitzgerald received rousing welcomes from the veterans. The latter paid tributes to Commander John E. Gilman, the late Col.
Olin and John T. Priest, the latter dying only a few hours before the mayor
arrived at the banquet.

Past Department Commander Fiske
presided, and, as the first speaker, introduced Gov. Foss.

His Excellency said it was an honor
to represent a state that had done so much for the old soldier. He spoke of the great reception that he and the delegation had received in the south
last summer, when they dedicated the monuments erected by Massachusetts.

In speaking of the coming 50th anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg, when the G. A. R. would be the hosts of Pennsylvania, he said it was his and
the committee's ambition to have every
man in the state who participated in
that battle present, and he wanted the address of every man.

The next speaker was Commander-
in-Chief Trimble, who said:
"It has been the motto of the G. A. R.
and its individual members for many
years—in fact almost all the years
since the victory of '65 was achieved—
to still live in the present rather than in the past. It is one of the glories of this mighty commonwealth—from here
have been sent out throughout this
land of ours and throughout the world
the noblest forces that have led men
to the higher levels of human thought
and humane action. And so it is a glory for any one from any other
great state of this union to pay that homage to Massachusetts that is due to the beginning of the genius and the enterprise that set liberty and that old
flag aloft in this land to be carried
to future generations as the signal and
synonym of freedom."

"I yield nothing for Illinois. The name of Lincoln wrought a new page in the history of the world—a page bright
with the most glorious heroism, the
most exalted patriotism ever known among men, and with Grant's name will live through all the ages yet to come."

"We all understand that here in Massachusetts was the beginning of things,
and here in Massachusetts of all the great names that adorn the history of
this mighty commonwealth—from here
have been sent out throughout this
land of ours and throughout the world
the noblest forces that have led men
to the higher levels of human thought
and humane action. And so it is a glory for any one from any other

Mayor Fitzgerald, who had been de-lained by business, got a hearty welcome when he entered the hall and was immediately called upon. He spoke of his enthusiastic remarks he paid a glowing tribute to the men who are holding positions in the city government and who fought to save the Union.

He spoke feelingly of the loss the city had sustained by the death of John T. Priest, a comrade. The city,
he said, was glad to welcome the veterans and closed by making a feeling allusion to what the city was doing to perpetuate the memory of Wendell Phillips on the erection of a suitable monument on the common.

His Honor was given an ovation at
the close of his address and in response to calls sang "Sweet Adeline," and all the veterans joined in the chorus.

Other speakers were Col. McElroy of
Washington, Capt. DeWitt Coffman, U.
S. N., commandant of the navy yard;
Col. Adam Slaker, C. A. C., commander
of the artillery district of Boston; Capt.
John S. Barrows, National Lancers, M.
Y. M., and Department Commander
George A. Hesley, who last a few hours before had been installed.

During the festivities the proceedings were enlivened by the singing by the "gangs" conducted by Commander
A. A. Carlton, and solos by Past Commander-in-Chief Gilman and Past Department Commander John L. Parker.

For those who have attended these encampments for years there was a tinge of sadness in their hearts, as
many familiar faces, who have always been present, were missing.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL
The regular meeting of Division 2,
A. O. H., was held in Hibernian hall
last night, Vice President Philip Harley in the chair. Considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. Several propositions for membership were received and 14 new members were initiated.

A communication was received from the national president relative to the sending of delegates to the national convention to be held in Chicago on

Borden's

Sherry and egg, milk and egg, chocolate and egg, and egg-coffee are good. But have you tried Borden's Malted Milk as a busy man's lunch? The reason is that Borden's Malted Milk is not only more nutritious and more easily digested but quite as tempting in flavor.
It can be flavored by anything that one has special liking for, but is perfect and pleasant served plain because its own natural malty taste pleases the most fastidious.

When you want Malted Milk ask for Borden's.

SETTLE THE STRIKE BEFORE SUNDAY

But two days more of this week remain in which to settle the mill strike now on. The mill agents can settle it in that short time by granting an increase that will be acceptable to the vast majority of the operatives. Next Sunday will be Easter, and the day would be more thoroughly enjoyed by everybody in Lowell if it were known that on Monday all the operatives would turn out to work.

We do not feel warranted in mentioning any fixed rate per cent. as a basis of settlement; but we are of the opinion that a compromise might be reached under which the operatives would go back to work. The mill men should act promptly. There is nothing to be gained by prolonging this struggle. Grant a reasonable increase, that is what you can afford to grant or what is granted elsewhere and see what the operatives will do. There is no desire, so far as we can judge, to prolong the idleness in Lowell; but it is certain that the operatives will remain out for months unless they get some concession. Now is the acceptable time; if the increase be granted tomorrow the strike can be declared off Saturday and on Sunday it will be all over and everybody will be happy.

DEMOCRATIC PROSPECTS IN NOVEMBER

The factional strife now tearing the republican party to shreds is offering great encouragement to the democratic forces to move on to a great national victory. The conflict between Taft and Roosevelt has divided the party in a hopeless manner. Although Taft is assured of the nomination it makes little difference which gets it as the defeat of the republican nominees is a foregone conclusion. On the democratic side the greatest good feeling prevails. It is true that there are many candidates in the field, but they are conducting the canvass in a fair and temperate manner without inciting bad blood such as has been stirred up in the republican ranks. It is evidently a democratic year and apparently the party is preparing to make the most of it.

The democrats are looking forward not only to the election of a president but also to changes that will give them a majority in the United States senate. The appearance of four new senators from the two new states, New Mexico and Arizona, does not give either party an advantage as Arizona is democratic and New Mexico republican. With these new senators included the senate will stand republican 51, democratic 44, with a vacancy in Colorado that had been filled by a democrat.

On the third day of March next thirty senators will retire, seventeen republicans and thirteen democrats. The republican senators to retire are: Cullen, of Illinois; Nelson, of Minnesota; Richardson, of Delaware; Welmore, of Rhode Island; Warren, of Wyoming; Smith, of Michigan; Kenyon, of Iowa; Guggenheim, of Colorado; Gamble, of South Dakota; Dixon, of Montana; Curtis, of Kansas; Crane, of Massachusetts; Barham, of New Hampshire; Brown, of Nebraska; Briggs, of New Jersey; Bourne, of Oregon; and Borah, of Idaho. The democratic: Davis, of Arkansas; Bacon, of Georgia; Paynter, of Kentucky; Foster, of Louisiana; Gardner, of Maine; Percy, of Mississippi; Simmons, of North Carolina; Owens, of Oklahoma; Tillman, of South Carolina; Taylor, of Tennessee; Bailey, of Texas; Martin, of Virginia; and Watson, of West Virginia.

The democrats have not much hope of electing senators in Maine and West Virginia, but they do hope to elect their men in Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Delaware, Idaho and New Jersey, thus securing control of the senate.

INDEPENDENCE OF THE PHILIPPINES

The democrats in congress have prepared a bill providing for the independence of the Philippines to be guaranteed by Great Britain, France, Germany, Japan, Russia and Spain. It is under such a guarantee as this that Switzerland has enjoyed her freedom for centuries. The United States cannot too soon get rid of the menace of holding the Philippines as a turbulent colony. The islands are open to attack at any time by Japan and even the disaffected leaders of the people are liable to invite outside assistance in an effort to secure their independence.

THE COMPROMISE MILK BILL

The Massachusetts milk consumers' association is still hard at work pushing the so called Ellis bill which was vetoed by the governor last year. A change has been made in the constitution of the board which under the bill is to pass the regulations. Two members of the board of five to be appointed by the governor with the approval of the council are to be milk producers. The majority would still represent the dealers, or as they call themselves the consumers. Any drastic regulations added to those already in force would put up the price of milk and might not improve the quality.

Col. Roosevelt poses before the country today as the sole and only advocate of the people's right to rule. The cry is that of a demagogue. It is insincere and used only as an electioneering makeshift. Behind this phrase coined to catch the people the Colonel is evading a proper discussion of the tariff, the trusts, the high cost of living, the third term for president and the many other important issues that enter into this campaign.

Mr. Bryan is devoting a good deal of his energy these days to convincing the people that Governor Harmon of Ohio is not a fit man to be president. We do not believe Mr. Bryan need be alarmed—Harmon will not be nominated. The lightning bolt strike in the east this year. The democrats in recent years have not had much success with presidential candidates west of New York state.

The Greeks will hold the respect of all good citizens, including the mill officials, if they keep aloof from the public demonstrations and negotiate quietly for higher wages without uniting with the N. W. W.

The flying police squadron is doing effective work in preventing trouble in this strike.

There is an opportunity for one of our gentlemen readers to rusticate during the warm weather. Spring is with us; the grass will soon be green; the sun will presently be cooking from the sun; the robins and phalaropes will shortly be caroling their melodious lays; the morning air will from now on be so delicious that it will be a pleasure to get up half an hour before breakfast in short, conditions are ripe for a change of work. And such work: Cast your eagle eye upon the principal inducements. "Short hours," "suitable privileges," "money no object," "high wages," "where we ask, may a gentleman unearth a similar position so congenial.

so unlaborious, so lucrative? No, where, certainly, this side of New York City hall.

Let your imagination dwell for a moment on life as it will be enjoyed on this farm. You hop out of the mill at seven-thirty and, as you dress your ears are greeted by nature's sweetest symphonies—the trills of robins, bluebirds, and canaries; your eyes are dazzled by the rays of the sun rising behind the neighboring hill; your cheeks are caressed by a gentle breeze, gentler than the breath of your Sarah Jane. At breakfast your slightest desire is anticipated by the rear elected daughter of your employer and, after bustling the meat with a real Havana, a prophetic offering from said employer, you saunter about the verdant fields, admire nature in all her April glory, and occasionally assist in the light work until noon is at hand. After what would be termed by our society reporter a "sumptuous repast" you read over the current magazines and when two o'clock arrives drive to the village depot with a load of butter. Delivering this consignment you drop in at the postoffice where you are cross examined as to your past, present and future by the comely postmistress. These spectacles of femininity are always comely, you know, and, moreover, always curious. Leaving the postoffice filled to the neck with news about yourself—all of which you have drawn from your exuberant imagination—you climb aboard the wagon, and land at the inexpressible kitchen door in time to sit down to a steaming supper. Meals being really a portion of your pay, you lay to with a will and despatch platter after platter of buckwheat cakes and cold lamb and German fries and mullins and all that sort of victuals until the top button of your trousers, by tightening perceptibly, warns you to beware. Then, lighting a cigarette, you talk on the kitchen street to the daughter of the house, on politics with the head of the house, and on Chinese mission work with the boss of the head of the kitchen. With a glad round to the figure "ten," so, with a pleasant "Good night" to your fellow laborers, you go to your rest, feeling an honest day's work.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

New Britain Herald: It has often been said that if women were granted the right to vote that it would have an injurious effect upon the home. Perhaps it would in some homes, but not in that of Mr. and Mrs. Brad B. Buxton, who are both candidates for office on the prohibition ticket, she for membership on the school board and he for mayor.

Fall River Herald: Outside of the disturbance in the textile industry at Lowell, New England has settled down to what appears to be a long period of prosperity in all lines. ## FLORETTA WHALEY

Girl Who Eloped Visits
Grandmother

HEMPSTEAD, La. 4.—Floretta Whaley, who eloped from Hempstead six years ago when 16 years old with the Rev. J. K. Cook, rector of the exclusive St. George's Episcopal church, of which August Belmont is senior warden, returned to the home of her grandmother here yesterday with the statement that she was homesick for old friends and relatives. Cook did not accompany her and she stayed but a short time, then returning to New York, where she joined the economically placed clergyman. Where they are staying in New York could not be learned here.

The former minister and the girl who renounced her family for his sake, came east from San Francisco, where they have been living since the elopement. In 1906, Scarlet fever and diphtheria were epidemic in San Francisco at the time and inasmuch that a child had been born to them, it was deemed expedient to come east for a short visit in order that Floretta might see her relatives.

When Cook and the girl left Hempstead, he deserted his wife, who was a member of a prominent and wealthy family in Hartford, Conn. The elopement created a sensation through Long Island. Miss Whaley will shortly inherit more than $25,000 from her father's estate and upon the death of her aged grandmother, Mrs. Kasah Whaley of this place she will receive about $50,000 more. Cook has gone into the catering business in San Francisco and prospered.

FOUR BANDITS

Killed Expressman and
Looted Wagon

PARIS, April 4.—The arrest of Carrol, one of the automobile bandits who killed chauffeur at Villeneuve-St. Georges and held up a bank at Chantilly, killing two of the employees and stealing $9,000, has not put a stop to the extensive series of highway crimes which have thrived France for some weeks past. A gang of four bandits this morning leaped on an expressman's wagon in the vicinity of Choisy-le-Roi about six miles from Paris, killed the driver by strangling, looted the wagon of a large quantity of valuables and then tossed the corpse to the roadside. The bandits fled and no traces of them have been found.

THE GRAND JURY

Wants City Officials Re-
moved From Office

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Recommendation for the summary removal from office of ten members of the various city departments is carried in a formal letter sent to Mayor Ralph J. Kelly by the grand jury of San Francisco. The ten named are hold-overs from the administration of former Mayor P. J. McCarthy. The men named are Michael Casey, president of the board of public works; James P. O'Connell, Donahue, Eugene C. Pacific, fire commissioner; C. S. Laumister, member of the board of public works; P. J. Kilmer, Dennis J. Murray and Arthur M. Sharp, members of the board of health; H. Spino, police commissioner and B. B. Rosenthal, civil service commissioner.

The letter declared that after special investigation the grand jury finds the board of public works and the members named have been guilty of "wasteful waste and extravagance in the expenditure of public money and have displayed incompetency in the performance of their duties."

KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

Bert Fitzgibbons has been going to Keith's twice and three times a week for it has gotten out that he has a regular day in and day out line of gab, but hands out new stuff at each performance as the spirit moves him, and that spirit is moving incessantly. Fitz is quite the funniest proposition that has walked the footlights since the theatre opened. "The Handful," E. T. Hawley's great one-act melodrama with its sensational and tragic climax continues to hold the rapt interest of each audience. The play is in the headlines of melodramatic productions and is staged and presented in faultless manner.

Some people don't like bicycle acts but that of Chalk and Chalkette, the latter a charming little rules with in terror and amuse all. They ride about everything ever conceived in wheel and introduce a lot of good comedy. The Boreana, two exceptionally clever performers on piano and violin, present a classy musical act which includes a most amusing surprise. The Loreta twins on the horizontal triple bars have an act entirely different and ahead of the ordinary bar act. Their work is graceful and most daring. Russell and Gray present a novel singing show, the former singing in three distinct voices. Tenel Fiske and her boy tenor assistant has also a novel singing act that makes a big hit. Ben Brandt, the great cartoonist drawn with lightning-like rapidity can draw any old thing.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today the Theatre Voyons presents "How Washington Crossed the Delaware" and Kilborn historical production out of the ordinary. It was photographed this winter and just the same weather conditions as prevailed when Washington did really cross the Delaware. It is historically correct and is a most interesting subject. Father's weekly presents a series of exceptionally well chosen plays, and the St. Patrick's Day parade in New York shows Mayor Gaynor and Cardinal Parley while the portion that shows the Boston St. Patrick's Day parade shows Mayor Fitzgerald, Governor Foss and President Taft.

Honest Statement of
Well Known Citizen

An advertisement of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which I saw in the St. Albans Messenger some time ago, induced me to give your remedy a fair trial. I was then suffering from terrible pains in the small of my back. The pain was usually greatest during the morning, and often when I attempted to arise from my bed to go to work, I found I could not do so without the assistance of some member of my family. I am very grateful for the good your great remedy has done for me.

I thought I would have to use much more Swamp-Root than I did, in order to get well, but am absolutely cured of my kidney trouble and now without the slightest pain, after using only seven bottles. Was cured about six months ago, and though I do heavy work in the shop where I have been employed for the past forty-four years, have had no recurrence of the trouble or pain in the slightest degree.

I am doubly thankful for this, and while now an old man, I again find the strength of my youth, thanks to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Many others also use it to us good advantage as I have.

Very truly yours,

MEN ARRESTED

Police to Make White
Slave Charges

SPRINGFIELD, April 4.—Police investigation of information that Springfield is a recruiting station of white slavery traffickers whose victims are sent to New York and Boston resulted yesterday in the arrests of Nicholas Papula, charged with abduction and abuse; Joseph Papula, charged with abuse; Nicholas Scarsella, held as a vagrant, and Minnie Bradley, aged 19, who is said to be a victim of the men.

Recently the Meriden, Conn., police asked the Springfield police to find the Bradley girl and Rose Goddell, who is barely 15. The girls, had good homes in Meriden, it was charged, and had been lured to Springfield. Search for the girls was at first unsuccessful.

late Tuesday night the police received information from Meriden that a third girl, whose name is withheld, had received a letter to Springfield from Joseph Papula, who had promised her "a good time" and was to meet her at the railroad station here.

Half a dozen plain clothes men, who also met the train, trailed Papula and the girl to a Water street lodging-house, where the arrests were made. Rose Goddell left the city Tuesday.

The police will offer in court testimony that Nicholas Papula said that he sold the Goddell girl for $50. As two states are involved, Chief Quilty believes that he has a United States case and will lay the matter before the federal authorities.

ders is to be held; provided, however that the secretary of the commonwealth or the city or town clerk, as the case may be, may provide a duplicate set of ballots for any polling place where he deems it necessary. A sufficient number of ballots for voters who may be entitled to vote for a part only of the officers to be voted for in a city or town. A statement shall be printed on the back of such ballots, in addition to the official endorsement, indicating the class of voters for whose use the ballots are furnished, and such ballots only shall be furnished to such voters.

Section 2.—This act shall take effect upon its passage. (Approved March 15, 1912.)

Roosevelt Headquarters.
City Clerk Stephen Flynn received a big bunch of mail this morning containing a great many requests for information that meant a whole lot of work for himself and his clerks. They were the kind of requests, however, that he couldn't very well turn down but that he must attend to as a matter of courtesy.

One of the communications was from the Roosevelt headquarters in Boston and was signed by Matthew Hale, manager state campaign. He asked the city clerk to mail him a list of registered voters, republicans and democrats, and to "please forward within a day or two."

First Assistant Engineer.
George A. Nelson, assistant engineer of sewers and water works, has been promoted to first assistant engineer. Mr. Nelson has been connected with the engineering department of the city for a good many years and the promotion is well deserved. It does not, however, carry any extra salary with it. "I felt that in the absence of the city engineer," said Commissioner Brown, "there should be someone to represent the department, an engineer, and I felt that Mr. Nelson deserved the promotion. He is a very valuable man and has been with the department a good many years. The promotion does not mean any advance in his salary."

Tour of Inspection.
City Solicitor Hennessy, First Assistant Engineer Nelson, Capt. McDonald of the city solicitor's office, Newell F. Putnam, superintendent of streets, and Mr. Forsythe went out in Commissioner Brown's automobile this forenoon on a tour of inspection of streets and other premises mentioned in claims for personal injuries that are to come before the municipal council for action.

Seeking Information.
Smoke Inspector Holloway has addressed communications to "smoke authorities" in Paris, Vienna, Berlin, Rome and other famous cities requesting information relative to methods used in the abatement of the smoke nuisance. The following questions are contained in his letter:

Do you rely entirely upon the records of observation to prosecute violations, or do you fortify your case with additional data such as the gas tests, etc.? Do you consider it a competent measure to visit factories for the purpose of instructing firemen and suggesting helps? Have you found any concerted opposition on the part of the manufacturers to pressure brought by your office in enforcing the law? Would it be considered necessary to frequently visit plants and examine coal supplies?

Factories where fuel used is wood waste from the manufacture of shingles, bobbins, etc., where constant firing is required; does it present a difficulty to you? Does the question of the color or density of smoke, from a legal point of view, depend upon the accuracy of the organ of vision, or can visual evidence be discredited by chemical detection?

What has been found to be the simplest way to abate the smoke nuisance?

Marriage Intentions.
The following marriage intentions have been registered at the city clerk's office since the last were published:

Albert Carter, 21, bricklayer, 73 Billerica street, and Susan Sheridan, 20, at home, 519 Lawrence street.
Francisco C. Costa, 19, weaver, 145 Gorham street, and Jasmina Gonzales, 23, weaver, same address.
James A. Harrington, 23, operative, 58 Union street, and Eva J. Doherty, 21, operative, 1237 Gorham street.
Edward K. Thrift, 21, shoe maker, 247 Appleton street, and Mary Scholes, 18, operative, 216 Chelmsford street.

Benjamin Monahan, 25, loomfixer, 185 Appleton street, and Cora Mary Lane, 25, cook, same address.
Manuel C. Sousa, 30, operative, 151 Charles street, and Maria L. de Souza, 23, operative, same address.
Elias J. Houppis, 22, dry goods dealer, 429 Market street, and Jennie N. Bell, 23, at home, 33 Trumbull street, Worcester, Mass.

Walter E. Bleakley, 51 (widowed), brush maker, 10 Fifth street, and Mary A. Cox, 51 (widow), operative, same address.
Peter N. Dedousis, 28, fruit dealer, 58 Union street, and Ellen Speroskanopoulos, 21, operative, 137 Market street.
Howard Frank, 22, operative, 30 Floyd street, and Martha Edwards, 20, operative, same address.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Strongly Urges Economy in Government

WASHINGTON, April 4.—President Taft today sent to congress his second message of the present year on economy and efficiency in the government service. He recommended the passage of legislation designed to save more than $1,000,000 annually to the people of the United States. Probably his two most striking proposals were that the local government offices in the treasury, postoffice, justice, interior and commerce and labor departments, be placed in the classified service and that the revenue cutter service be consolidated with the light-house service on the department of commerce and labor.

By the first change the president said, congress could effect a saving of at least $100,000,000 annually and although in this message he gave no figures for the consolidation of the two services of the sea, a previous message on the same subject early in the year, had predicted economies that would total about $1,000,000 yearly.

The president concluded his message with an appeal to congress to appropriate the $200,000 necessary to

COTTON MILLS STRIKE

Dr. Demopoulos, the Greek leader, reported for his nationality. He spoke of an article that appeared in a morning paper asserting that the Greeks stand for a 10 per cent. increase. He said in part:

"There is in this morning's paper a paragraph saying that the Greeks stand for 10 per cent. increase. I have to state that when the strike committee formulated the demands of the strikers, I presented them to the Greek strikers and they were adopted. If there is any change to be made in the demands of the strikers, this change will be made by the strike committee—this one—and I am one of you, and when we come to discuss about a change you will hear my opinion. I have several times been advised to listen to words regarding the Greeks alone, but my firm and only answer was: 'I won't listen to anything but what comes through the strike committee.'"

"The Greeks, unanimously, demand from the mills what you demand. If they ever have any change to propose in those demands, they will propose it strikers to be firm and stick to their present demands. She said that this was the first time that all the mill strikers were united in one cause and that they want to stay together and win. She said that this is the first general strike that has taken place in this city. She said that the first strike in this city occurred in 1834 and while many have taken place since that they were all confined to one nationality or one department. She told the people in Lawrence suffered. This not only marks the first great strike, but you are brought in contact with other people whom you never knew before and it is a great thing to see so many different nationalities united and working for the one cause. Life is first now and profits come after. Here in Lowell only six of the directors are here. The other directors are from other cities and they do not have to contend with the conditions here. The conditions here, from what I have read, are terrible and if true the citizens of the city ought to be ashamed. However, these mill men can go out of the city and enjoy the good conditions elsewhere, while you have to remain here and work. Now stick together and they will have to come to you." After Miss Flynn's remarks the meeting was adjourned.

LOOMFIXERS UNION

HELD LIVELY MEETING

The members of the Loomfixers' union held an important meeting this morning in their hall in Runcles building and discussed the letter sent to them by the local agents regarding their demands presented last week.

The meeting was addressed by John Golden, national president of the United Textile Workers of America, and also by Mrs. Susan Conboy, Boston, national organizer for the United Textile Workers of America, and national vice-president of the Women's Trades Union League.

Previous to the meeting of the loomfixers, the executive council of the union held a conference at the Trades and Labor council rooms, 22 Middle street, and drew up resolutions in connection with the agents' reply to their demands, the said resolutions being later accepted at a meeting of the body.

The agents' reply was received yesterday afternoon at the loomfixers' headquarters, but the officials of the organization refused to disclose the contents, while the agents on their end were firm in not wanting to divulge the nature of their reply. The Women's union also received a similar reply.

THE I. W. W. PARADERS

OUT EARLY THIS MORNING

The members of the I. W. W. numbering about 200 held their usual parade early this morning after doing picket work in the vicinity of the Hamilton mill in Jackson street.

Shortly after six o'clock a few members wearing their insignias made their appearance in Jackson street and immediately began their walk, shouting and cheering, and calling upon those who were going to work to join their ranks. This however with very little result.

After some time the paraders marched to the Carpet mill in Market street and then proceeded to their hall in Hanover street. They soon came out again, this time carrying their flags which consist of an American flag and two large red flags, one bearing the words "I. W. W." while the other is plain. They again marched in the mill district and later disbanded to meet at the hall at 10 o'clock at which time the strike committee meeting was held.

All the mill districts were well policed this morning, but no disturbance of any kind was reported. The Lawrence hostility is still running full blast and at that place there is not the least sign of strike or trouble.

TO STAY OUT

The members of the Mule Spinners' union wish it to be known that the mule spinners who returned to work at the Hamilton mill yesterday morning did so for emergency work only, pending the decision of the meeting which will be held tomorrow night. They also wish to state that although they have not presented any demand to the mill agents, they are not satisfied with the increase announced on March 25.

The members of this labor organization gathered at their hall, 22 Middle street, this morning for the roll call. Practically all the members were present with the exception of those working in the Hamilton mill.

DELEGATES LEAVE CITY

TO COLLECT STRIKE FUNDS

The work of soliciting funds for the strikers from out of town was started today. About 40 delegates left the city authorized to collect the money. Each committee has a chairman and the members have credentials from the I. W. W.

THE GREEK STRIKERS

DID NOT MEET TODAY

As the Greek leader, Dr. Demopoulos, is out of town this afternoon there was no meeting of the Greeks. A circular, however, was issued and distributed among the strikers of that nationality. The work of the registration of the Greeks is still in progress.

TRAUTMAN SPOKE TO STRIKERS

ON THE SOUTH COMMON

Mr. Trautman in the course of his address at the mass meeting on the South common said in part:

"When the Lawrence strike was inaugurated there were many who did not agree with our policy and expressed some opposition to our demands and general attitude. Since then, however, they have changed their minds, and are now willing to admit that the I. W. W. stands for something, is a grand, good organization for the working class, and the great good which it has brought about, which it is bringing about, and in which it promises to bring about in the future, is a real Godsend to humanity. The strike in Lawrence has not only brought increased wages to the thousands of operatives there, but has also resulted in the formation of a strong organization of the I. W. W. in that city, an organization that will ever be on the lookout to right the wrongs that are daily being inflicted on the working classes by the capitalists."

"The Lowell mill agents have not come through with the goods yet, but they will, they must. This struggle is one in which the stomach is concerned. These mill masters cannot starve us; they cannot and will not be allowed to crush us into submission. They cannot get along without us, and for this reason they must pay us our worth."

"Mill men will give better wages only after they are forced to do so. They will improve the conditions in the mills only when the operatives arise in

ANNOUNCEMENT

We take pleasure in announcing to the people of Lowell and vicinity that we are now at our new stores 99 and 103 Gorham street, directly opposite where we formerly were. We shall carry the same lines of merchandise as we always did, only on a larger scale. Our chief reason for leaving our old stand was "lack of room." We simply could not attend properly to our large trade. This difficulty has, however, been removed completely by taking these two spacious stores, and we shall be hereafter in a position to give our customers the best service in town. Our millinery and cloak departments have been specially fitted in a way to please even the most scrupulous customers. Our success during the last five years has been largely due to the way we have pleased our customers, both in the price and quality of our merchandise. We shall, therefore, continue to pursue the same course. We shall endeavor to give each and every customer the full value of his money. Our rent is comparatively low, and low rent means low prices. Do not fail to attend our Easter openings next Friday and Saturday.

Special on Stamps

To celebrate our first opening in our new stores we shall give to any grown person 10 S. & H. green stamps on presentation of this coupon with or without purchase and double stamps with any purchase in all departments.
